Reds Rip Indian Plan On Prisoners' Release

Won't Accept Returnees, Neutrals Told

Insist on More Time For Holding Interviews With 20,000 Prisoners

PANMUNJOM (AP)—The Communists demanded today the Indians "withdraw" a decision to turn back unrepatriated war prisoners starting tomorrow and indicated they will not accept 349 pro-Red POWs.

The Reds insisted on more time for interviews with 20,039 anti-Communist Koreans and Chinese and that all prisoners be kept in neutral custody until a peace conference decides their fate.

Indians To Go Ahead

The Indians said they would go ahead with the transfer of anti-Communist prisoners back to U.N. custody starting at 9 a. m. tomorrow (7 p.m. EST Thursday). The Allies said flatly they would be freed at midnight Friday. Pro-Red POWs, including 21 Americans, Americans, presumably will remain in Indian custody at least temporarily.

The Communist nine-page letter to the Indian Command angrily opposed the decision to return all unrepatriated war prisoners to their captors.

An Indian spokesman quoted the Reds as saying they will not take back pro-Communist prisoners. And another neutral official said "the implication of the whole message is plainly that they will not take them back."

Red Stand Implied

The text of the letter broadcast by Red China's Peiping radio does not say flatly the Communists would refuse to accept custody of the prisoners if the Indians turned them back. But the Reds appear to say so by implication.

The Communists rejected any proposal which would transfer the prisoners from Indian custody before (1) they receive explanations and (2) a Korean peace conference discusses their fate.

Will Carry Out Plan

Lt. Gen. K. S. Thimayya, Indian chairman of the Neutral Nations Repatriation Commission, said anti-Red prisoners would move southward from stockades in Korea's neutral zone on schedule.

He told a press conference the anti-Communist Chinese and Korean prisoners were overjoyed

CUSTODY DUEL KEEPS THEM APART. Harry Hillers, 36, Brooklyn house painter and ex-GI, waves to his son, Jimmy, 6, as youngster stands by window in police station at Harlington, England, a London suburb, where he is held by British authorities. Hillers and his pretty German wife, Hanna, were reported meeting secretly today in London in an effort to patch up their shattered romance and give Jimmy a normal home again. Scotland Yard detectives Sunday night halted the father's attempt to fly the boy from Germany back to his New York home.

Community Chest Board Names Fralich President

Election of officers for 1954 was the major item of business at a meeting of the board of trustees of the Marion Community Foundation Monday night.

Chosen to head the foundation was Harold Fralich of 250 Merchant Ave.

OTHER OFFICERS elected were: John F. Lacey, assistant to the president; Ray Beverly, first vice president; Ralph Howard, second vice president; Homer D. Cole, treasurer; and Miss Edna S. Dutton, secretary to the board of trustees. J. E. Oliphant, a past president of the foundation, served as chairman of the nominating committee.

Charles D. Harmon, who served as president for the year just closed, presided for the meeting held in the foundation headquarters.

Named to represent the foundation on the board of the United Appeals organization were Fralich, Harmon and Beverly.

FIGURES BASED on the 1953 United Appeals campaign indicate that agencies comprising the foundation will receive 80 per cent of their budget to carry on their work through 1954. Should additional contributions be received, funds will be allocated throughout the year it was brought out in the meeting.

Fralich, the new president, is manager of the Marion Agency of the Commonwealth Life Insurance Co. here, and is a member of the board of directors of the Marion Association of Life Underwriters. He represents the Sixth Ward on Marion City Council and also is a member and on the board of directors of the Kiwanis Club. Other civic interests include the presidency of the George Washington PTA. He and his wife are parents of three children.

HAROLD FRALICH
Community Foundation President

—:—

Present also was Fred Hanover executive secretary of the foundation. Serving on the nominating committee with Oliphant were Lacey and Kester.

Morrow Man Gored by Bull, Dies in Hospital

MT. GILEAD — A 67-year-old Morrow County farmer, Deloss Hathaway, of east of Mt. Gilead, died about 9 p.m. Monday from injuries suffered earlier in the day when he was gored by a bull at his farm.

The Franklin Township farmer suffered chest and head injuries Monday morning when a bull he was loading into a truck jumped the loading ramp and rammed Hathaway against a fence.

Hathaway's dog succeeded in driving the bull away from the farmer's body after vain attempts were made by a visiting stock dealer. Hathaway was rushed to Morrow County Hospital here, where he died several hours later.

Surviving Hathaway are: his wife, Clara; a daughter, Mrs. Cora Hunt of Chesterville; a son, Vaughn Hathaway of Columbus; two grandchildren; and a sister, Mrs. Lula McCreary of Newark.

Born Nov. 2, 1886, in Morrow County, he was the son of Franklin and Rebecca Simmons Hathaway, who are deceased.

Funeral services were scheduled for 2 p.m. Thursday at the Craven Funeral Home here with Rev. Rober Irey, pastor of nearby Waterford Church, of which Hathaway was a member, officiating. Burial will be at Maple Grove Cemetery, Chesterville.

Curriculum Study Planned

Council Formed To Aid In Guiding School Policy

A new venture in Marion was launched last night with formation of a Curriculum Coordinating Council, composed of representative students, parents, teachers, and principals.

Having as an expressed aim "to improve the learning experience of the boys and girls," the council was formed to give a voice to students and parents, as well as teachers and principals, in the formation of school policy.

The job facing council members was described as "challenging" by Harold Edwards, director of curriculum for the Marion public schools, who presided for the meeting held last night in Harding High School.

He explained to the group of approximately 60 persons present that the word "curriculum" as used in the council name means "the total experience of students while under the guidance and in the control of the schools."

Groundwork was laid at last night's initial meeting for the work of council members in future monthly meetings. After a brief orientation session at which the purpose of the group was explained, the members adjourned to the school cafeteria where they formed small discussion groups comprised of representatives from each of the four component groups.

In these discussion groups, council members individually list-

Billion-Dollar Expansion by GM Planned

Program To Provide Additional Capacity In Automotive Division

NEW YORK (AP)—General Motors today announced another billion dollar expansion program.

Sixty per cent of the funds will be spent this year and the remainder by the fall of 1955. The program is designed mainly to provide additional capacity for GM's automotive divisions.

Harlow H. Curtice, GM president, disclosed the undertaking along with an optimistic outlook on business prospects in an address to 500 business and industrial leaders at a luncheon perliminary to the opening Thursday of GM's Motorama of 1954.

2 Billion Since War

He said GM has spent two billion dollars on expansion since World War II.

Curtice predicted a gross national production this year "approximately equal to the 365 billion estimated for 1953."

"No depression is in my vision," he said. "It is my belief the national economy will be strong and healthy throughout the year."

He said he looked for little change in the over-all level of employment. "Consumer expenditures should continue substantially at present high levels as a result of well-sustained incomes and lower taxes," he said.

Now 9 Billion

He predicted General Motors' volume of sales "in physical and dollar terms in 1954, should not be far from the high level attained in 1953. Last year, he reported, GM's dollar sales exceeded nine billion dollars "by a substantial amount."

For the auto industry specifically, the GM president said, "I estimate the domestic market should absorb in the area of 6,300,000 cars and trucks. Unit production, including Canada and for export, should approximate seven million cars and trucks."

Factory sales in the domestic market last year, he said, totaled seven million cars and trucks. Including Canada and units produced for export, industry sales amounted to about 7,800,000 units, the second largest volume in history.

3 Million Cars

He noted GM produced almost three million cars and more than 500,000 trucks in 1953. Production of GM's 1954 models, he said, required an outlay of about 350 million dollars for equipment, tools, dies and engineering. He said the destruction of GM's Livonia, Mich., transmission plant by fire last August cost about 100,000 units of output.

"There is one danger we must guard against—and that is psychological," Curtice said. "If those who persist in taking a pessimistic view of the future succeed in planting fear in the minds of the public, those seeds of fear could take root and the result might be

Kidnaped Man Rescued; Police Seize Suspects

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—A wealthy young San Francisco real estate broker kidnaped Saturday and held for $300,000 ransom was rescued unharmed early today by police who arrested the suspects.

"It's wonderful. I love the police department."

Identifies Suspects

Dist. Atty. Thomas Lynch, in announcing the break at 7 a. m. EST, identified the two suspects as Harold Jackson, 57, and Joe Lear, 43, both of Sacramento, Calif.

Moskovitz was found shackled in a rented house a few minutes after two police inspectors picked up Lear as he talked with the victim's family from a public telephone a few blocks away, Lynch said.

Newspapers, wire services and radio stations had known of the kidnaping since shortly after worried members of the Moskovitz family telephoned police Saturday afternoon and reported him missing. All kept it secret while the family negotiated for his release.

Talk With Newsmen

Leonard's father, Maurice Moskovitz, a tiny silver-haired man, and his sister-in-law, Mrs. William Moskovitz, talked happily with 35 to 40 newsmen in the Hall of Justice.

"You're the most wonderful people in the world," Mrs. Muskovitz told Police Chief Michael Gaffey.

Voting Machine Issue Will Be Left to Public

SMOKE ENVELOPS SOUTH BEND BUILDING. Smoke billows from the Myers building in downtown South Bend, Ind., in a fire that took the life of one fireman and injured several others. Every piece of fire fighting equipment in the city was called into action to prevent spreading of the fire which damaged half a block of business buildings before being brought under control.

Opinion Poll On Question To Be Asked

County Commissioners To Seek Advice on Legality of Proposal

If it is possible, the question of voting machines in Marion County will be placed before the voters for decision, county commissioners decided yesterday.

The commissioners propose to ask some type of yes or no vote on the question to determine public feeling toward machines. If the vote is favorable, they will then seek a way to purchase them.

To Ask Opinion

The proposal is so unusual that commissioners are not certain it can be carried out. They plan to ask Ralph Carhart, county prosecutor, for an opinion today on whether or not such a question could be placed on the ballot.

The Marion County Board of Elections asked the commissioners to purchase 77 machines Friday, declaring machine voting would be more accurate, much speedier and, over a period of years, less expensive than voting by paper ballots.

The machines would cost an estimated $111,650, but would save the county $200,379 over a 20-year-period, elections board members asserted.

Suggested Issuance of Notes

In their report, elections officials proposed the county acquire the machines by issuing negotiable promissory notes to be retired in annual installments over a period of approximately 13 years. Use of this plan, they pointed out Friday, would not add to the tax rate.

From their year's study, which preceded drafting of the resolution, elections board members arrived at an annual savings of $10,018 by using voting machines.

Savings Questioned

If machines are not purchased, the board must set up 18 additional precincts by the November general election to take care of the increasing number of voters. According to law, no more than 400 voters may be assigned to one precinct.

In considering the elections board resolution, commissioners said they questioned whether the net savings from the use of voting machines would actually be as great as the report indicated, but that if voters decided they wanted them, then commissioners would try to obtain the machines.

Showdown Put Off on Flexible Crop Supports

Senate Agriculture Committee Won't Seek Decision Until March

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Eisenhower administration moved today to delay for at least six weeks any showdown with Senate critics of its flexible farm price support program.

The Senate Agriculture Committee recalled Secretary of Agriculture Benson for questioning on the program but Chairman Aiken (R-Vt) said in an interview he won't push for a vote on the price support issue until about March 1. Aiken is backing the new program which President Eisenhower outlined to Congress eight days ago.

Study Other Phases

In the meantime, Aiken said, he will ask the committee to consider other phases of the program. These include Eisenhower's requests for (A) authority to "freeze" 2½ billion dollars worth of crop surpluses from regular markets, (B) a 1¾-billion-dollar boost in funds to support farm prices and (C) authority to dispose of a billion dollars worth of surpluses abroad over the next three years.

Officials said the last point contemplates the surpluses would be given to non-Communist countries in exchange for pledges to undertake economic projects.

"When all of these have been explained and considered, I think there may be a fuller understanding of what the President and Benson are trying to do," Aiken said.

"In six weeks it is entirely possible that our differences over parity will be resolved."

Not Discouraged

Aiken said he was "not at all discouraged" by the evident fact that a majority of his committee now favors continuance of 90 per cent parity price supports on major field crops, instead of the 75 to 90 per cent flexible props proposed by the President.

Parity is a farm price standard said by law to give farmers a fair return for their products in terms of things they have to buy.

"I am confident that we are going to get a workable program," the Vermont senator said. "If these surpluses can be removed from competition on the market and farmers can have a fresh start, they will get better returns out of the President's program than they

Search Continues for 3 Detroit Area Fishermen

DETROIT —Helicopters of the Air Force and Navy kept up a search today for the three Detroit area fishermen missing since Sunday in a home-built cabin cruiser on the Detroit River.

The three were among five fishermen who were trapped by high winds and breaking ice. Two were rescued yesterday.

Fire Loss Set At Half-Million In South Bend

SOUTH BEND, Ind. (AP)—Fire department officials today estimated at a half million dollars the damage done by yesterday's fire in down town South Bend, which killed one fireman and caused 24 others to be overcome by smoke.

Battalion Chief Anthony Miller, 45, died from smoke suffocation. Four of the firemen overcame are still in a hospital but doctors said they would recover.

The fire followed the explosion of a boiler in the basement of the three-story Myers Bldg. at Michigan and Wayne Sts. Fire inspectors were trying to determine the cause of the explosion.

Proprietors of several establishments in the quarter block area said they could give no immediate estimate of their damage.

Clouds Here Block Out Total Eclipse of Moon

This also was true in many other parts of the country, especially in the midwest. In New York City, clouds blotted out the eclipse until the moon started emerging from the shadow of the earth. The total eclipse occurred between 9:17 and 9:47 p.m.

The eclipse of the moon occurs at a time when the earth moves between the sun and the moon, causing the earth's shadow to be cast upon the moon. This will not be repeated again until 1956.

City Manager's Duties Defined By Commission

Members Determine Powers of Office and Qualifications for Post

The qualifications, powers and duties of a city manager were added to the tentative draft of a proposed city charter last night when the Marion city charter commission met at the YMCA.

The commission also added a section setting up an amendment process and discussed sections dealing with the lengths of terms for elected officials and the filling of vacant council seats.

In addition, the group formulated its ideas on the recall, referendum, initiative and legislative process, forwarding these ideas to its drafting committee.

Will Prepare Draft

That committee, under the chairmanship of Henry Mickley, will incorporate the ideas into rough drafts of sections which will be sent to the commission for its tentative approval.

Finally, the commission had a brief discussion on whether the posts of solicitor, auditor and treasurer should be filled by election or appointment.

Most of last night's meeting was devoted to the ideas which the commission forwarded to the drafting committee.

Reason for Decision

Discussing the recall, the group's main question was whether or not it should extend to the city manager. The commission finally decided against it.

The main reason for the decision was that other sections of the tentative charter give the power to hire and fire a city manager solely to the council and that it would be inconsistent to give that power to the voters.

It was also pointed out that

Advice to Ike

Woman Politician Seeks Action on Coffee Prices

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Eisenhower administration had this advice today from a Democratic congresswoman from Missouri:

Forget a minute about the Big Four, atoms, deficits and the budget. But for goodness sakes do something about the 15-cent cup of coffee.

To Mrs. Leonor Kretzer Sullivan, styling herself a typical "harassed housewife," the implication was clear: Democrats may get an issue that will push the old nickel cigar into the background.

Mrs. Sullivan, an attractive brunette, said rising coffee prices are making coffee a luxury beyond the reach of the man in the street, or the woman in the kitchen, and "that is almost un-American."

She said profiteering and speculation have caused the price of a cup of coffee to jump to 15 cents in St. Louis and other cities, and the price of a pound to climb to $1.10 and higher.

"If this gouging were occurring in copper or manganese," she said in a House speech yesterday, "I'm sure the government would be showing some interest and some concern and undoubtedly getting some helpful results.

"But so far as I can see, it is looking with resignation or unconcern on the holdup of the American consumer and housewife on skyrocketing coffee prices."

Then she went to her office and whipped out this letter to Secretary of State Dulles, who deals with the countries (chiefly

Sheriff Seeking Help in Finding Hit-Skip Driver

Aid of the general public was sought this morning by the Marion County sheriff's office in locating the driver of a hit-skip automobile which critically injured 18-year-old Gloria Saunders Sunday evening. Information is sought on the automobile which was described by the sheriff's office as an early-model dark blue Chevrolet coupe, possibly a 1936 or 1937 model, with the right rear fender badly rusted.

All available deputies have been assigned to the case, and are busy checking out any leads they receive.

Gloria, who sustained head and leg injuries, was reported to be in "fairly good" condition this morning at Marion City Hospital, and her physician said she was "improving steadily."

The hit-skip accident occurred shortly before 8 p.m. Sunday as Gloria, a sister, and two cousins, were walking north on Fountain St.

There were no lights visible on the car, the girls told investigating deputies. The hit-skip car is thought to have turned onto Fountain St. from Kenton Ave., and then after hitting Gloria continued down Fountain St., where it made a left turn onto Fairground St., and then west to Route 30.

A state-wide message has been sent, giving a description of the car, in an effort to apprehend the driver.

Congressman Says GOP Should Control Top Jobs

WASHINGTON (NANA) — All government jobs with a $10,000 or more price tag should belong to the political party in power, according to one Republican Congressman in Washington.

He is Charles J. Kersten (R., Wis.), who introduced a bill in the House of Representatives which would wipe out all existing laws concerning job rights of those in the $10,000 and above pay category.

Kersten said today this is the only way out of the administration's dilemma of trying to impose its own political philosophy of government on federal bureau and agencies whose top staff men owe allegiance to previous democratic administrations.

THE CONGRESSMAN'S reasoning goes like this:

An administration must be able to place men in top policy jobs of its own political leanings. Persons earning $10,000 or more annually cannot expect high pay and security at the same time. Men in similar categories in industry do not. Such a law would replace the current uncertainty. Anyone offered a $10,000-a-year job in the future would know in advance that the job had no permanent tenure.

There are 9,600 government employees earning $10,000 a year or higher at the present time. This is less than one-half of one per cent of all federal employes.

The Wisconsin congressman points out that Civil Service job security was designed to protect competent personnel in lower pay categories, who should be and are protected from financial worries in lieu of higher pay.

HE SAD THAT his bill would also toss into the political spoils system all other policy-making jobs, in addition to all jobs paying $10,000 or more. There is no estimate available on the number who would be affected in the policy job designation alone, since nobody, including the Civil Service commission and the White House, has been able to decide as yet just who is making policy and who is not.

Kersten's proposal is the most direct approach to the job headache that has plagued the administration since it gained control of the government. The congressman introduced the legislation on his own, without conferring with administration aides or members of Congress serving on committees handling government job problems.

KERSTEN SAYS his bill will eliminate the confusion in Washington regarding the policy job problem. The bill reads as follows:

"That, notwithstanding any other provision of law, the head of each department and agency in the executive branch of that government, in his discretion, may terminate the employment of any person employed in such department or agency whose basic compensation is at a rate in excess of $10,000 per annum. This act shall not apply to any person entitled to veterans' preference for employment with the federal government."

Republican sentiment is well known here on the policy job situation. They want to control all the top spots on the federal payroll for two reasons. First, to satisfy the clamor or party faithful anxious to do a stint in Washington for the administration and, second, to ease the strain of trying to implement the Republican program. Charges have been made that Democratic holdovers balk at some administration policies and are in a position to harass Republicans by delay and misinterpretation of policy edicts.

28 Food Licenses Granted in Marion

Food service operators licenses have now been issued to a total of 28 restaurants, taverns, lunch stands, churches, and other places which serve food in Marion, the city department of health announced today.

This is about 20 per cent of all such establishments which have applied for the licenses. So far about 125 applications have been received by the health department.

Licenses will be granted applicants as quickly as sanitary and proper food handling inspections at each place of business can be completed, Dr. J. T. Gruber, chief inspector said.

Establishments such as drive-in restaurants, or roadside ice cream stands which are closed during the winter months must apply for the licenses 10 days prior to their opening date in the spring. The new restaurant licensing law became effective Jan. 1 and requires the licenses be displayed in a conspicuous place.

Five in Indiana Family Killed in Crossing Crash

RUSHVILLE, Ind. (AP) — Five members of one family were killed Sunday night in a railroad crossing accident on a country road in southeastern Indiana.

The car of Harlan Vail, 36, Clarksburg, hit the front end of a New York Central freight train two miles south of Milroy.

Vail was killed, along with his wife Ruth, 35, and their three children, Sandra, 14, Jerry, 8, and Michael, 2.

Pamphlet Gives Children Anti-Kidnaping Pointers

AYER, Mass. (UP)—To minimize the dangers of kidnaping, Police Chief Ernest L. Downing has distributed among the town's school children an illustrated pamphlet containing these eight points:

1. Report to police any stranger who tries to join in your play.
2. Or any stranger who asks you to go with him.
3. Or any stranger who tries to talk with you in the movies.
5. Or any stranger who tries to have you disobey any of the rules in this pamphlet.
6. Always mark down the registration number of the stranger's car, if any.
7. Always try to remember the description of the stranger.
8. Be sure to let your parents see this folder.

Casualty Lists One of Rougher Duties

U.S. Adjutant General Has Tough Job

By A. A. HOEHLING

WASHINGTON (NANA) — A little-known branch of the Army, with far more meaning than its size would indicate, is again deeply involved with the subject of heartbreak.

Combining the functions of investigator, recorder and chaplain, the casualty branch of the Army's Adjutant General's office has been notifying 3,372 American families that their sons or husbands or fathers are presumed dead in Korea. When this sad task is completed they will start all over again on several thousand more.

The casualty branch, comprised of a scant 150 men and women, mostly civilians, is concerned with all service deaths or injuries. Its most difficult task is to resolve the problem of the missing.

Extending back to the Spanish-American War, the list of those missing in combat without one shred of physical evidence attesting to death now totals around 10,000. These the Army has been obligated to declare dead, in order that insurance can be paid and other accounts settled.

So far, on a long-term basis, these apparently arbitrary findings have been very accurate. Yet, many refuse to abandon hope: the casualty branch is confronted daily with the forlorn plea ". . .He must be alive!"

LUMPED INTO A category tagged "deserter," for want of better nomenclature, is another and much larger total, the exact figure of which must remain secret. How many are behind the Iron Curtain, how many are still alive are among the questions no one can answer accurately.

However, the casualty branch operates with as much painstaking devotion to duty as any agency of our federal government. Soldiers are not declared dead simply in desperation, the conclusion is arrived at only after exhaustive investigation.

The thickness of individual files in the casualty branch attest to this. Testimony of all those in the soldier's outfit who saw him last is carefully recorded, whether it was in battle or possibly in prison camp. While the Communists kept scant vital statistics on their prisoners, buddies almost always knew—and remembered.

IN ITS INVESTIGATIONS, the Adjutant General's office works closely with many other governmental agencies including the FBI and often reaches overseas to enlist the aid of Scotland Yard, the French Surete and similar organizations in other countries.

A news photograph of a street scene during a Paris strike led to a Texas mother's finding her son, who never returned after World War II. She spotted him and was sure of his identity even though she had not seen him for 10 years and he was wearing a beret.

She forwarded the picture to the Adjutant General's office, which in turn got in touch with the French Surete. In a few weeks they had apprehended him. Technically a deserter, he had nonetheless fought well through several campaigns and simply had not bothered to come home to be discharged after hostilities had ended.

IN FRANCE AND ENGLAND, for example, where the United States has reciprocal agreements, our AWOLS can be extradited. In Holland, Belgium and others he may request and obtain asylum indefinitely.

The Graves Registration Command of the Quartermaster General's office performs invaluable service in the continuing efforts to determine death—or life. A class ring—to cite just one of tens of thousands of instances—led to the identification years later of a soldier who fell at Normandy.

Buried temporarily in France as an unknown, he had apparently not been close to any of his buddies at the time he was killed. Later it turned out he had been in a jeep, struck by a German shell. The driver miraculously survived but was taken prisoner by the Germans. Having given the other soldier a lift only minutes before the explosion, he had no idea who he was.

TO COMPLICATE MATTERS, the father of the driver, while he was in prisoner-of-war camp, had received a ring, supposedly a personal effect of his son. Ultimately, after pondering the matter the returned driver concluded that the ring must have belonged to his passenger.

Eventually it was dispatched to the FBI. There a lengthy examination indicated that the ring was a 1944 class or school emblem from the town of Spring Valley, made for a woman.

There are 11 Spring Valleys throughout the United States. The right one was not found until agents finally located the manufacturer of the ring and then the jeweler who sold it.

THE PRINCIPAL of the high school in Spring Valley — in a midwest state — recognized the tiny initials "D.T." inside the ring as those of Dolores T. . . .who had graduated in 1944. Now married and the mother of two children, she did remember giving her class ring to Jimmy M. . . . long since missing in action.

Sometimes the Adjutant General can prove a man is alive. Whatever the finding, the office simply hopes that all next of kin will appreciate the tremendous and personalized thought and actual physical labor that attends every case—and try to accept a determination once arrived at.

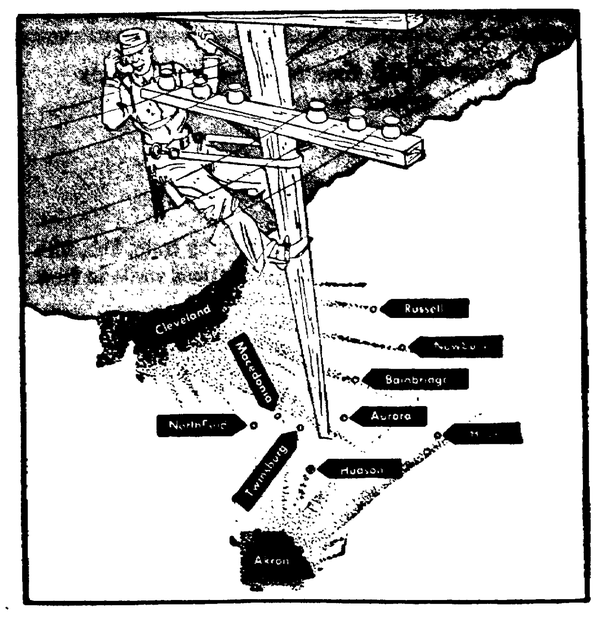
THE WESTERN RESERVE TELEPHONE COMPANY

(an Ohio Corporation)

5.85% Cumulative Preferred Stock. Series 1953

Par Value $20.00 Per Share

Dividends payable quarterly—First days of January, April, July and October.



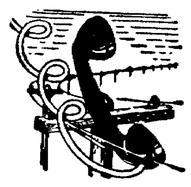
LINES TO GREATNESS

The Western Reserve Telephone Company, which started as The Hudson Telephone Company in 1910, has increased its number of subscribers 70 times in 43 years. Incorporated in 1927 as a consolidation of the Hudson, Hiram, Bainbridge and Newbury Telephone Companies, it now serves 7000 phone users in a rapidly growing three-county area. As this area continues to grow beyond its present 500,622 population, and as neighboring Cleveland increases its demands on the company as a vital connecting link, Western Reserve must continue to expand and improve service under the principles laid down by its founder, Weldon C. Wood, who helped develop the telephone from a novelty to a necessity.

PURPOSE OF THIS ISSUE—To finance this necessary expansion and service improvements, and to reimburse the Company's treasury for $230,000 spent on property additions in the last three years, The Western Reserve Telephone Company offers the people of Ohio an issue of 5.85% Cumulative Preferred Stock, Series 1953, with a par value of $20.00 per share.

MANAGEMENT—Officers of the Company are Mrs. Harry N. Case (Alice W.), president; Weldon W. Case, vice president and general manager; Nelson H. Case, secretary; Theodore H. Case, treasurer; and Baxter H. Case, assistant secretary. Directors include the officers named and Claude R. Babb, John V. Cotton, and Francis H. Wood. Harry N. Case, who was associated with Mr Wood, succeeded him in the management of the company. Since the death of Mr. Case in 1949, Mrs. Case (Alice W.), daughter of Mr. Wood, succeeded to the presidency. Weldon W., Nelson H., Theodore H., and Baxter H. Case are all grandsons of the founder.

CAPITALIZATION—Capitalization of the Company as of January 1, 1954, was as follows:



Funded Debt:
First Mortgage Bonds outstanding in the aggregate amount of	$529,000.00
Capital Stock:
Preferred Stock (authorized 25,000 shares) 18,750 shares of 5.85% Cumulative Preferred Stock, Series 1953, par value $20 per share, issued and outstanding	$375,000.00

No Rosy Hopes at Berlin

Big 4 Foreign Ministers Realists on Peace Talks

WASHINGTON (AP) — An invisible sign — "No Children Allowed" — will hang outside the conference room door when the Big Four foreign ministers meet in Berlin Jan. 25.

Not one of the four —on one side the United States' Dulles, Britain's Eden, France's Bidault and on the other side Russia's Molotov — has any resemblance to a babe in the thorny woods of East-West relations. They have dealt with each other many times before, in many wars.

Neither the Allies nor the Russians can have an illusions about what they're up against and perhaps not much hope for an progress through talking. All of them, nevertheless, may well be self-conscious when they meet.

For this conference is the result of multiple pressures from the people of the world, expressed or implied, upon their leaders to make some effort toward peace beside the unimaginative reliance upon weapons.

In Stalin's later years, thanks mostly to him, the West and Russia were not on speaking terms. Face to face, that is. If they talked at all it was across continents in interviews and speeches or through ambassadors or notes.

When Malenkov succeeded Stalin and mumbled about peace, the Allies saw a chance to show the rest of the world they at least would like to break the ice. They peppered Moscow with requests for a conference.

That Molotov agreed to go to Berlin is probably due more to concern about how Russia would look if he refused them hope. or desire, for peace or an willingness to yield an inch.

For that mater, there's no sign the West will yield any inches either at Berlin.

What Russia apparently fears most in Western Europe is a single European army, including France and a rearmed West Germany and backed by the United States and Britain.

Russia has psychological as well as military reasons. So long as Western Europe has not decided to set up the army, its people can retain the luxury of hoping they won't have to make that decision, with the sacrifices it implies. They remain divided as to whether they should and open to promises dangled by Moscow if they don't.

And, the longer Western Europe is divided on the single army idea, its old enmities and rivalries stay alive, the better the chance for the local Communist parties to make hay from within.

Further, Western Europe, full armed and realizing its strength, would be in a position to pressure Russia for concessions which the Soviets seem determined never to yield by reason or peaceful persuasion.

So far, by its tactics and propaganda, Russia has done extremely well in helping Western Europe stay divided. The hope of a single army looks more forlorn daily.

At Berlin, if Molotov continues these tactics, as he undoubtedly will, by playing off the United States, Britain and France against one another, weakening their alliance, his mission in Russian eyes will be a great success.

The three Allies can't play off Molotov against anyone, unless it is world opinion, of which Moscow is aware but to which it never makes basic concessions.

Since Western German — rearmed or unarmed — is the key to any settlement in Europe, the Berlin conference seems doomed not to open the innermost door to peace.

Russia wants Germany to remain unarmed. Dulles said only last week a rearmed Western Germany must be the foundation tone of Allied strength in Europe.

There are other points on which Russia and the United States will not agree at Berlin, but the disagreement on Germany is enough for a starter.

THERE IT GOES. The tragedy of watching their home go up in flames is stamped on the faces of Elwin Bartram and his wife, Clarice, at Phoenix, Ariz. The 17-year-old mother grabbed their six-month-old boy and fled from the blazing two-room frame cabin just in time to save its life. A gas leak started the fire.

2 Hamilton Boys Admit Crime Spree

HAMILTON, Ohio (AP)—Two young boys have admitted a year of crime ranging from horse theft to the stealing from an airplane, police reported today.

The boys, aged 10 and 12, were caught yesterday as they were crawling out of a basement window of a metal products company. They then admitted, police said, to a series of thefts.

Police said the boys confessed to stealing a horse, taking money from an airplane, looting the Pilgrim Baptist Church and other burglaries.

Pennsylvania Woman Held in Fatal Shooting

POTTSTOWN, Pa. (AP)— 35-year-old Pottstown woman was held without bail for the grand jury today in the bizarre fatal shooting of her husband.

Police said Mrs. Susan Zayac told them her husband, George, 38, directed his own death scene, telling her how to load his rifle and then aim and fire it. They said she told them the shooting was a reenactment of similar scenes which had followed previous quarrels.

Police said the shooting occurred Saturday following a quarrel. Zayac died yesterday in Pottstown Hospital.

Officials quoted Mrs. Zayac's version of the shooting:

Each time he would direct her to take his rifle—a single-shot bolt action, German Mauser (similar to a .32-caliber—from the closet. After instructing her on how to load it, he would tell her to aim the rifle at him and pull the trigger.

Police theorized that on previous occasions the woman either forgot to slide the bolt in place or else the safety catch was on.

This time Zayac received a fatal shot in the chest.

Identity of Abandoned Lancaster Baby Sought

LANCASTER, Ohio (AP) — The 2-month old baby boy found abandoned in a telephone booth near here Saturday remained unidentified today.

"We've run down numerous leads, but haven't a thing tangible," Dep. Sheriff Del Wilkins reported. Nearly a score of persons called at the sheriff's office yesterday seeking information on how to proceed to gain custody of the child through adoption.

The baby, described as in "excellent condition," will remain in the Lancaster - Fairfield Hospital temporarily. If investigation fails to disclose his identity, he will be released to Fairfield County welfare authorities.

In 1942, a Chinese junk sailed from China to the United States in 86 days with a crew of four.

Pennsylvania Is Ready To Start Pike Extension

HARRISBURG, Pa. (AP) — Gov. John D. Fine of Pennsylvania looks today for actual construction on the northeastern extension of the Pennsylvania Turnpike to start by the end of February.

In a statewide radio broadcast Saturday night, he disclosed the route will be announced today. The project is expected to run from Scranton to a point near Philadelphia.

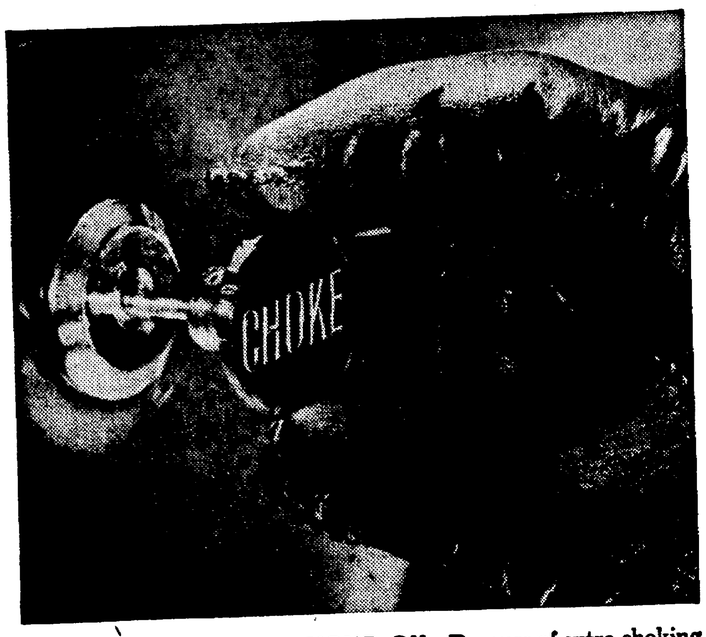
HOW TO KEEP WINTER FROM HURTING YOUR ENGINE

(1) Since oil contaminates faster in cold weather – drain it more often!

WATER GETS INTO YOUR OIL. In winter, starting your engine cold can throw as much as a tablespoon of water into your motor oil! It comes from water vapor, formed by burning gasoline, which condenses on your cold engine walls. Even after a 15 or 20 mile trip, your oil often doesn't become warm enough on a cold day to expel this moisture. It remains in the oil to form harmful sludge.



GASOLINE GETS INTO YOUR OIL. Because of extra choking during cold weather, unburned gasoline drips into your motor oil, thinning it out. Contaminated by sludge and gasoline, your oil becomes unfit for duty much sooner in winter than it does in summer. Unchecked, the contamination can lead to worn engine parts, clogged piston rings, and stopped-up oil lines and screens.

AUTO MAKERS HAVE THE ANSWER. Owners' operating manuals from virtually every car manufacturer recommend how to keep your engine protected against oil contamination during cold weather. They say, "Drain oil more often in winter." Draining oil more often during cold weather is a low-cost way to protect the expensive investment you have in your car.

(2) To keep your engine cleaner between drains use HQD MOTOR OIL

Since Sohio HQD motor oil contains a triple-strength detergent, it cleans as it lubricates. Like all oil, HQD should be drained more often in winter, but it keeps your engine cleaner between drains. HQD removes sludge and other dirt from vital engine parts, and holds it in suspension so it drains out at oil-drain time. Let HQD help you lick the problem of cold-weather contamination in your engine.

The State of the Presidency

It would be desirable in presidential messages on the state of the union, now given in January, to include some aniversary remarks about the state of the president, who takes office in January.

President Eisenhower might have some observations to make at the end of his first year which would be more useful now than they will be in his memoirs, if he saves them that long.

In the light of former President Truman's frank admissions that he found the burden of the presidency intolerable, there is lively interest in his successor's feelings about the world's toughest job.

Since the collapse of Woodrow Wilson under the presidential strain, there has been no occupant of the White House, except Franklin D. Roosevelt, who seemed to enjoy himself. Even the ebullient Roosevelt finally let the burden get him down.

Observers agree that President Eisenhower is rising aggressively to the challenge of the presidency; that he appears to be in good health; that he finally has the benefit of good staff work. But they all agree so far that he will be a one-term president by his own decision; that he looks upon the presidency as a duty, not as a privilege.

A curse seems to have fallen on the highest office in the land. A mother these days who told her child he would grow up to be president would be chided by psychiatry for frightening the little fellow with fear images.

Truck Tieup Looms Larger

An appeal to the White House by United Truck Owners of America for a declaration of national emergency in the looming truck tie-up is especially interesting in the light of President Eisenhower's recommendations for changes in the Labor-Management Act.

One of the changes would make it impossible for the AFL Teamster Union leaders who are threatening to tie up the trucking industry in the Middle West on Jan. 15 to take this fateful step without a government-held election of all union members.

Since United Truck Owners represents owner-operators of rigs who claim they should not be bossed by union leaders and who claim they comprise about 70 per cent of all transportation in interstate commerce, the result of such an election might be a blow to union strategy.

The apparent aim of the strategy is to make certain that Ohio's new axle-distance tax is paid by the carriers, instead of by the owner-operators of trucks. But there is good reason to believe the actual aim of the strategy is to make certain that Ohio's new axle-distance tax will never be paid by anyone—and that over-the-road transportation will cease until Ohio knuckles under to pressure applied by the trucking industry and by other state governments in the Middle West.

This would be a form of rebellion against a tax which the trucking industry has warned it does not intend to pay without a showdown. If the showdown materializes, the White House will have to declare a national emergency not to protect owner-operators but to protect the public against the consequences of a tax rebellion in the trucking industry.

Kremlin's Decision

Among the sober second-thoughts stirred by Secretary Dulles' doctrine of "massive retaliation" to deter the Kremlin from launching new attacks on the free world is this one:

What if the Kremlin isn't deterred? What if it launches a new attack to find out what would happen?

The answer is pure conjecture. It can only be assumed that Secretary Dulles, President Eisenhower and the National Security Council have consulted with the Chiefs of Staff and defined "massive retaliation."

The most massive kind of retaliation anyone can imagine at the moment would be an atom-bomb attack on some prime target in the Soviet Union.

If this happened, it is reasonable to believe there would be massive retaliation in kind. World War III would be in progress.

Since the United States would not have struck the first blow in any circumstances, what Mr. Dulles said in effect when he voiced his doctrine is that World War III is the Kremlin's decision.

It always has been the Kremlin's decision, even before the Soviet Union had the means of fighting an atomic war. There has been no change in this respect.

The change has been made only in respect to the United States, which now has served notice through its principal spokesmen for foreign policy that it will not continue to be indecisive about its security and the security of its allies. Hereafter if the Kremlin chooses to risk retaliation it will get retaliation.

The next time the United States will fight to win, the decision which Gen. MacArthur thought should have been made the last time.

Within Constitution

By David Lawrence

Congress Must Approve Retaliatory Attack by U.S.

When Secretary of State Dulles announced last week that the policy of the United States would be to "retaliate instantly" against attack, the use of the word "instantly" raised questions in the minds of some observers here as to whether the President really has the power to wage a war without asking the previous consent of Congress.

This is an old question but it takes on new interest whenever the executive states the intention of this country in a military sense.

The fact is that the president of the United States always has had from the beginning of the Republic and has asserted many times the right to order our military forces into instant action without waiting for approval from Congress.

While the Constitution says Congress alone has the right "to declare war," the same document provides for the use of military power when an undeclared war occurs. Thus the Constitution gives the executive the right to protect the several states "against invasion."

WHEN THE JAPANESE launched their undeclared war on December 7, 1941 at Pearl Harbor, President Roosevelt ordered instant retaliation. Then he asked Congress for the passage of a resolution "ratifying the existence of a state of war."

The same thing happened when the United States entered World War I. After dealing patiently with the many attacks on the lives of American citizens traveling on merchant ships, President Wilson took cognizance of the announcement by the German Naval Ministry of an intention to wage "unrestricted submarine warfare" on all ships, including American merchant vessels.

President Wilson asked Congress in April 1917 not for a "declaration of war" but for a resolution asking for a ratification of the existence of a state of war.

Wilson even in a minor war was scrupulous about asking ratification from Congress. When a German merchant ship was about to land munitions at the Mexican port of Vera Cruz in April 1914 to aid the unrecognized Huerta government which had insulted the American Flag, Wilson ordered the Navy at four o'clock in the morning to seize the port.

HE WENT before Congress a couple days later and asked for a resolution asking for ratification of his action and he got it.

Where President Truman made his mistake was not in his original decision to order American military forces instantly into Korea for he did this in pursuance of a resolution of the Security Council of the United Nations to repel aggression. The mistake of Truman was in failing at any time afterward to go to Congress to ask for a ratification of his action which probably would have been given by overwhelming vote. It is true that Truman consulted leaders of both parties and members of the foreign relations committees of both houses, but this is not a substitute for "constitutional processes," which incidentally is the phrase now used in the new treaties in the Pacific including the one recently signed with the government of the Republic of Korea.

These new treaties with Australia and New Zealand and the Philippines do not commit the United States to instant action though they do not preclude it. They do preclude it. They do pledge American action through "constitutional processes" which means that the Congress will be given a voice in ratifying an action taken or in agreeing to a proposed action in advance, depending on circumstances.

FAILURE on the part of Truman to ask and get from Congress a resolution ratifying the existence of a state of war in Korea was not an oversight.

It was a deliberate action to avoid the use of our full military and naval power against China and to avoid embarassment with Great Britain which did not wish to cancel its diplomatic recognition of Red China for fear of losing Hong Kong.

It also has left a residue of unsettled legal problems which will plague our courts for many years. In casualties the Korean war was the third largest "war" in our history against a foreign enemy but legally it wasn't a "war."

The American Constitution is eminently suitable for our defense in an atomic age because the President has the right to order our forces into immediate action instantly and without waiting for previous congressional assent.

HIS POWER is clear when an attack is made on United States territory or ships and also where an attack is launched against an ally of the United States especially where it is provided explicitly in a treaty that an attack on any member country—as in the North Atlantic Treaty Organiaztion—can be regarded as an attack on the United States.

Here the treaty itself—approved by the Senate—has defined the obligation of defense concretely but the discretion as to how and when to retaliate is solely that of the commander-in-chief of our military forces, the President.

Even in such a case any President who failed to ask Congress for a resolution of ratification immediately afterward would be making a grave mistake.

The chances are Eisenhower, confronted by any such contingency, wake the military action required, and, at the first opportunity afterward, would go to Congress with a request for a resolution ratifying what he had done.

Budget Balancing Herculean Task

By Jay G. Hayden

President Eisenhower's second message on the state of the union more than ever has marked budget balancing and tax reduction — achieved simultaneously—as the supreme test of his four-year administration.

Up to now, no major policy of the Truman administration has been repealed. In fact, the basic aims proclaimed by Eisenhower, both abroad and at home, are substantially the same as Truman's.

Throughout his campaign and many times since he assumed office, the Republican President has set up as his supreme aim the curtailment of U.S. government activities and expenditures for the three purposes of stemming inflation, balancing income and outgo and reducing the "tax burden that today stifles initiative."

REPEAL of the wartime excess profits tax and a 10 per cent reduction in personal income taxes became effective January 1. This was in spite of the fact that, as of that date, the accumulated deficit for the current fiscal year was almost the same as during the same period of 1952, under President Truman — Eisenhower's $9,060,000,000, Truman's $9,293,000,000.

Eisenhower stated with full justification that his insuperable obstacle to budget balancing has been "the tremendous accumulation of unfinanced obligations" left over from the Truman regime, consisting mainly of military goods nearing completion but still to be paid for.

The President cited reductions in new appropriations, accomplished or contemplated, that will reduce the "spending level" this year and next by 12 billion dollars.

Many government armament contracts have been canceled or curtailed; a reduction of 400,000 in defense personnel during the coming fiscal year has been ordered; some 180,000 civilian employes have been dropped.

Still, on face of the daily Treasury statement the budget today is no nearer balanced than it was last January.

CLOSE EXAMINATION of the figures discloses two main reasons for this condition.

First, military expenses are approximately as high as ever. For six months, ended last December 31, Army cost dropped about 700 million dollars, presumably because of the stoppage of war in Korea. That decrease was substantially canceled out by rise in cost of the Air Force, and there was a slight increase also in expense of the Navy.

On the civilian side, increase of more than $1,500,000,000 in expenditure by the Commodity Credit Corporation — dispenser of farm price - support payments — came close to offsetting savings in all other nonmilitary branches.

Congressmen from the farm belt yowl loudest of all for economy, but the same legislators, to this date, have defeated every effort to change the present taxpayer guarantee of farmer income at 90 per cent of so-called parity.

In theory the "parity" formula is supposed only to keep farmers on a par in earnings with the people who make automobiles and other things that the agriculturalists buy. If the farmers suddenly stop buying and in consequence the automobile worker is laid off, the unemployment dole awaiting him is far short of 90 per cent of normal wage.

EISENHOWER recommendations for revision of farm bounties and the Taft - Hartley strike - control law is made, presumably with the idea of equalizing the farm - city equation. Whether Congress can be induced to follow this lead remains to be disclosed.

During the first six months of fiscal 1954, economic assistance to foreign nations, as dispensed by Harold Stassen's Mutual Security Administration, cost 573 million as against 823 million in the same period a year ago.

At the same time, however, loans abroad by the Export - Import Bank jumped from 79 million to 459 million and military assistance to our allies from $1,668,000,000 to $1,718,000,000.

The Reconstruction Finance Corporation, despite that it is in process of liquidation, is 266 million in the red for the past six months compared with a 38 million net earning during the last half of 1952.

The most discouraging feature of the year - end financial statement pertains to Treasury receipts. While taxes withheld from pay envelopes reached an all - time high —$13,015,000,000 for the six months, compared with $11,757,000,000 last year, over - all tax collection declined from $29,545,000,000 to $28,614,000,000. The big drop was in corporate and high - level individual income-tax receipts.

Eisenhower has 10 months to go before this year's election and three years till the end of his term. He predicted a near budget balance in the fiscal year beginning next July and complete attainment of that objective in the next following 12 months — a truly herculean schedule as things now appear.

Pulling the Wool

By TRUMAN TWILL

It won't make the difference of a load of hay what Congress decides to do about wool as far as my weekend farming is concerned. The sheep at our house are pets who earn their keep after a fashion by eating grass and weeds.

They also grow wool, which is the way nature intended it to be. And while it wouldn't be fatal to let them keep their wool year after year, it wouldn't be comfortable. They need to get rid of it once a year, like having an annual haircut.

The thing now giving the government fits is what to do with sheep's wool after it has been clipped. It now has about 100,000,000 pounds of the stuff, bought at an artificial price in order to keep the domestic wool industry from being forced to the wall by Australian imports and the new synthetic yarns being produced by the chemical industry here at home.

The present law says this bailing - out project shall continue unless production goes over 300,000,000 pounds in any one year, which is anything but likely. That is why it is being proposed that Congress should let the market price of wool fall to its natural level and pay domestic producers a direct subsidy to keep them from going out of business.

If the domestic wool industry is going to need to be force - fed to keep it alive, it at least should be done in a way to encourage the use of wool, which is already costlier than most artificial substitutes. In other words, the government shouldn't be subsidizing the substitutes by keeping up the price of wool artificially. They should be forced to produce something both better and cheaper.

This is being set down here so some city slickers will know something about RFD and its problems except that it's a good place to dump trash.

I wouldn't take the trouble to collect anyhing from Washington for the few wisps of wool a shearer takes off the little flock at our house. It would be simpler just to collect the market price, if any—and if not, to destroy the wool.

This would have the effect in time of making small flocks of sheep useless, except as pets. And since there is no more useless pet than a sheep, it would have the ultimate effect of making sheep extinct.

That is what the government is worrying about. There would be an immediate demand for wool clothing in the event of war. The manufacturers of synthetics would have no time then to compete with wool. They would be making ammunition. The country would be caught short for wearing apparel.

Big sheep have little sheep once a year. It takes little sheep another year to have little sheep. It's not like building airplanes and tanks. Nature takes her good old time.

That's why Washington is worried. Those pet sheep at my house may become as sought-after some day as a herd of Great Auks.

A Century of Searching

By MARK DANA

Just in case anybody is confused on the subject, this year is the 100th anniversary of the literary birth of Sherlock Holmes, the fictional master-sleuth created out of whole checkered cloth plus a magnifying glass by Sir Arthur Conan Doyle, and the detective is still much alive in the bookstalls.

England has a society, the "Baker Street Irregulars," comprising devotees of the private eye who lived on that narrow London Street, apparently spending more time in telling Dr. Watson how he solved cases than actually in solving them. Sherlock was quite a talker.

In Doyle's story, in 1914, Dr. Watson mentioned that Sherlock Holmes was 60. That dates him back to 1854, hence puts the century mark in 1954. Even Dr. Watson could figure that out, without calling Scotland Yard. The 1914 story giving away the age secret was "His Last Bow," but even with detective stories coming off the presses faster than anything else save comic (so they say) books, Sherlock hasn't bowed out.

Doyle, the author, has departed hence, but Sherlock has endured sturdily for 10 decades and may last another 10. A good detective is indestructible, and that is proper. Maybe Dr. Watson's quick needle had something to do with it.

Marion County History Brevities

By EDNA S. DUTTON

William C. Rapp, a prominent and successful business man in Marion when horse - drawn vehicles was the principal mode of transportation and there was a demand for saddles and harness, was born in Wurtenberg, Germany, July 21, 1844. Landing in America in 1852 he continued his westward journey with his family until Marion County was reached. His parents died in the cholera epidemic of 1854. He enlisted for service in the Civil War and was in the battles of Perryville, Franklin, Chickamauga, and others. He was wounded in the charge at Kennesaw Mountain. Upon his discharge from service he engaged in farming, leaving that business to open a grocery store which he operated for eight years. He disposed of his store upon his appointment as driver of the city fire engine, a position he held for two years. For the following four years he served as City Marshal.

Try This Easy-To-Prepare Coffee Ring

All you'll need to make this super peach preserve coffee ring is a box of hot roll mix, made with yeast, a few tumblers of peach or apricot preserves and some nut meats.

A sweet beginning for any day of the week, it oozes with goodness.

Follow this simple recipe:

1 package hot roll mix (with yeast) two thirds cup peach preserves or apricot preservers, 1½ cups finely chopped walnuts or pecans.

Prepare dough according to package directions. When dough is ready to shape, cut into pieces about the size of walnuts. Form into balls. Carefully roll each ball of dough in peach or apricot preserves, being sure that it is thoroughly coated. Then roll lightly in chopped nuts.

In a greased 8-inch ring mold pan, arrange the balls so that they barely touch. Add another layer of balls alternately over the first layer. Cover and let rise until double in size, about 30 to 45 minutes in a warm place. (Make dinner rolls using the remaining dough).

Bake coffee ring in a moderate oven, 375 degrees F., 35 to 45 minutes, or until done. Loosen from pan. Invert on a cake rack. Serve the coffee ring right side up on a heated plate.

Truck Firms, Union To Talk Over Axle Tax

Decision on Who Pays May Be Decided in Conference Monday

DETROIT (AP) — Negotiators for the AFL Teamsters Union and trucking firms in 12 Midwestern states may decide Monday in a 10-city long distance telephone conference who will pay Ohio's controversial new axle tax.

Both parties agreed yesterday to the added effort to stave off a threatened truck strike that would seal off Ohio's borders to truck traffic and paralyze trucking operations in the Midwest.

The telephone conference hookup will be among five company and five union negotiators.

Primary problem is who will pay Ohio's new levy—owner-drivers of the trucks or the firms that lease their services.

Union officials threaten to end an employer-union contract that covers the 12 states if owner-drivers, most of them teamsters members, are forced to pay the tax.

Such an action, they said, could tie up all trucking except local operations in those states.

Several states, currently disputing the tax with Ohio, threaten to end reciprocity agreements that exempt Ohio truckers from certain regulations in their states. Some have already taken this action.

In Washington Rep. Ayres (R-Ohio) submitted a resolution asking for an investigation of the Ohio levy. He charged the tax threatens to break down the entire reciprocal structure between Ohio and other states.

In Columbus, Gov. Frank J. Lausche turned to the state utilities commission in an effort to head off the strike.

He directed Robert L. Moulton, Public Utilities Commission of Ohio chief, to study PUCO powers for a possible solution to the strike.

Lausche told Moulton the commission has to determine whether the failure of franchised motor trucking companies to own trucks is a "legal and adequate excuse for their inability to provide the agreed service in the franchise."

1953 Hunting Season Claims 13 Ohio Lives

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Ohio's 1953 hunting seasons claimed 13 lives, mostly in the 15-20 age bracket, the division of wildlife reported today.

There were no fatalities among deer hunters. An Ohio deer hunter has not been shot to death since 1943, the division reported. There were only three injuries in the 1953 season.

Total hunting deaths in 1953 were 3 above the 1952 toll. Four hunters died as a direct result of gunfire in the 1953 squirrel hunting season and 9 were killed during the pheasant, rabbit, grouse and duck seasons.

There also was an increase in number of non-fatal hunting wounds, 86 in 1953 and 79 in 1952.

One 8-year-old youngster was killed in the 1953 season and the oldest to die was 63.

The division estimated the total deer kill—reported and unreported—was near 4,000. The kill in Trumbull County topped the state with 412 reported. Ashtabula followed closely with 349.

Other counties: Washington 147, Harrison 142, Portage 134, Geauga 122, Tuscarawas 120, Carroll 104, Vinton 92, Belmont 88, Monroe 84, Mahoning 76 and Holmes 75.

Hunters were permitted to shoot bucks only in Adams County and got only 1; Perry County hunters got only 2.

Fire Fatal to Four In Massachusetts

ABINGTON, Mass. (AP) — Four children perished, another was burned and three others were rescued last night as fire swept a single-family Quonset-type home near the Rockland line.

Fire officials said two children died in a second-story room added to the small home and two others were found under a collapsed bed on the first floor.

Dead were Roger McDonald, 8, and his brothers, James, 6, Kevin, 3, and David, 2.

A 6-week-old sister, Jannine, suffered serious head burns and was taken to Brockton Hospital.

Three other children, William, 10, Wayne, 7, and Linda, 4, were rescued by their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Francis McDonald, and neighbors.

Fire officials said the fire started apparently from an overheated space heater.

Accidents in and about the home killed about 27,000 Americans in 1953.

Schools in Russia Very Effective, Is Clergyman's View

CINCINNATI (AP)—A Roman Catholic priest who is a professor at the Russian Institute at Fordham University says schools in Russia "may be superior to American schools."

The Rev. Maurice Meyers told a religious meeting at Xavier University yesterday the Soviet educational system has been particularly successful in "achieving discipline and a spirit of devotion to school work."

He said the Russian school system is "now effectively operating throughout virtually the entire land and that attendance at elementary and junior high school is now obligatory for all the children. While strongly tinted with Soviet propaganda the text books in use are interesting and seemingly effective."

Father Meyers warned that Russia wants the ultimate destruction of religion despite a current policy of concession to some religious groups.

FORT WORTH, Tex. (UP) — E. H. Reagan Jr., expert boner at a local packing plant, was demonstrating to new employes how to bone meat when his knife slipped. He went to the hospital with a wound in his right side.

Buffalo Claims Original Motorized Mail Runs

BUFFALO, N. Y. (UP) — This city was the first to use mechanized postal service, according to local newspapers dated July 2, 1899.

"The first attempt to collect mail with an automobile ever made in the United States was made in Buffalo, Sunday evening, July 2," the paper stated, "when Dr. Truman J. Martin, promoter of the Buffalo Electric Vehicle Transportation Co., took Supt. John D. Leib of the city delivery system around in his carriage to collect the mail from a long route of street letter boxes."

Ormsby Talks to Club

Amusing Game Incidents Recounted by Ex-Umpire

Emmet T. (Red) Ormsby, former American League umpire, told Marion Executives Club members last night that the American national sport, baseball, changes normal persons—it makes them want to "kill the umpire."

He was guest speaker for the January meeting of the club, held at Hotel Harding.

He predicted, in a question and answer period, following his speech, that a former rookie with the Marion Red Sox, Tommy Umphlett, will likely become one of the all-time great stars in baseball. Umphlett was honored by Boston sports writers as the Boston rookie player of the year. Since the last baseball season, he has been traded to Washington. Mickey Mantle is also destined for greatness on the diamond, he predicted.

RECOUNTING HIS experiences during 19 years umpiring in the big leagues, Ormsby provoked many laughs with his stories of episodes illustrating the "hatred" fans have for the umpire, along with stories of little-known facts about stars of the game.

Telling of Ted Williams' ambition to become a fireman, he recalled a game in the Yankee Stadium in which the entire Yankee team wore firemen hats while on the bench and each time Williams came up to bat rang a fire bell to rattle him. Ormsby, on request of Williams, ordered the Yanks "to cut the horseplay."

He also spoke of Bob Feller of the Cleveland Indians. While umpiring a game one time in which Lefty Gomez was up to bat with Feller pitching it became so dark Gomez held a lighted match over his head, "so the pitcher would know where he was standing."

HE MENTIONED several other stars past and present and recalled his acquaintanceship with Babe Ruth.

"Here was a great star earning $80,000 a year—and do you know what he did on trips between cities?" the umpire asked. "The Babe and all his team mates played cops and robbers with toy cap pistols and beware the man who didn't play dead when shot."

Ruth would often get off the train at some station, find a snake or frog and hide it in a team mate's bunk, then sit back to enjoy the fun when the ball player went to bed, Ormsby said.

He recalled that the year before Ruth became a star hitter he was also a great southpaw pitcher, throwing 29 and two-thirds scoreless innings.

HE CALLED Lou Gehrig "one of the grandest fellows" he ever met in baseball, Ty Cobb the greatest of all ball players, and Rollie Hemsley, formerly of the Indians, the most remarkable player he has known. He based this on Hemsley's switch from the "playboy of the majors" to a hardworking baseball player after joining Alcoholics Anonymous.

Prior to the talk, Henry Mickley introduced new members, Dale Schmidt, Dr. and Mrs. Ralph Burton, Mr. and Mrs. G. N. Porter, and Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Probst, and guests, Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Stuckey. Humorist Edward Harding is the scheduled speaker for the March 4 meeting of the club.

Adult Classes Start Tonight

Bus Service Planned If Enough Want It

Tuesday night classes of the Marion Adult Education program will open at 7 o'clock tonight at Harding High School.

Bus service to and from the night classes may be provided if enough people designate that they desire the service, Emil J. Lisak, program director, said today.

Classes which will be held tonight include: art of dealing with people, basic electricity, bookkeeping, dancing, fine arts, first aid, golf, handicraft, home nursing, machine shop, Spanish, speech, stationary fireman beginners, typing, and driver education.

Registration is still open for the slide rule, business English, first aid, home nursing, speech and parliamentary procedure and human relations classes.

The slide rule class on Thursday night will be taught by Robert Bergman, electrical engineer at Marion Power Shovel, and a graduate of Ohio State University, Lisak announced.

Revival Will Open

REV. HAROLD C. RICKNER of Monroe, Mich., will open revival services tonight at Second Pilgrim Holiness Church at E. Mark St. and Ballentine Ave. He is a brother of the pastor, Rev. Norval Rickner, and is pastor of a church at Monroe which has a Sunday School with attendance of more than 300. "The Message of Salvation" will be the theme of the public services which will continue each night at 7:30 through Jan. 31.

Schools

ed areas of the local school program which they thought were good and constructive, and, likewise, those areas which they thought could stand some improvement.

From these lists, the executive committee of the council will select several subjects for more concentrated and detailed study and will assign council members to a committee.

In future monthly meeting, council members in committee groups will begin working toward their aim of what can be done to improve these areas. After as many monthly meetings as is thought necessary by council members, a list of suggestions for improvements will be formulated by the executive committee.

THESE SUGGESTIONS then would be submitted in a formal recommendation to the Marion Board of Education to include them in school policy.

A regular meeting date of the fourth Monday of each month was selected by council. Meetings are scheduled to begin promptly at 7:30 p.m. and end promptly at 9 p.m., in consideration of the students serving on the council.

Serving on the council are the principal, a teacher, a student, and a parent from each school, as well as additional citizens from the community in order to obtain a representative cross - section from various groups in the city.

Following the orientation session and the discussion group work, the four component groups elected representatives to an executive committee of the council. Chosen by the student group was Gilbert Herr; parents, Harold Carroll; teachers, Melvin Bernow; and principals, Miss Philomen Gregg.

IN INTRODUCING the student members of the council, Edwards said that the adult members could expect to profit by their presence, for "when we listen to students we learn they have a great deal to contribute."

Youngest of the student members of the council is Susan Bumgardner, a fourth grader at George Washington elementary school, and oldest of the students is Gilbert Herr, a senior at Harding.

Among those attending the initial meeting last night were E. Paul Bachman, representing the school board; L. L. Dickey, superintendent of city schools; Mrs. Robers McCombs, city PTA Council president, who served as secretary for the meeting; and Rev. C. R. Wendell, pastor of Calvary Evangelical United Brethren Church, who represented the Marion County Ministerial Association, and who pronounced the invocation.

These persons, along with others to be added later to the council, form the nucleus group of the Curriculum Coordinating Council.

REPRESENTATIVES FROM each of the schools, including the principal, a teacher, a student, and a parent, listed in that order, are as follows:

Olney: Ray Silver, Zelda Terry Janet Fairchild, Mrs. Floyd Arthur.

Oakland: Ray Silver, Mrs. Dorothy Smith, Michael Griffith, Mrs. Kenneth Emmons.

Police Report Nine Accidents, None Serious

Nine minor traffic accidents were reported on Marion streets during the last 24 hours by city police. The state highway patrol and Marion County sheriff's office reported no accidents on county highways.

A pedestrian was unhurt in a mishap at an alley intersection east of Main St. on E. Center St. involving a city police car at 7:50 p.m. yesterday. Patrolman Rollin Beach was driver of the car. The pedestrian, Arthur Hipkiss of Toledo, was walking south across the street while Beach was attempting to make a left turn into the alley. Beach applied the brakes when he saw the man and only Hipkiss' outstretched hand was hit by the car.

Cars driven by Kent Hobson, 40, of 607 N. Prospect St. and Donald M. Thomas, 29, of 131 Scioto St. were involved in a collision at E. Center and Greenwood Sts. at 7:45 a.m. this morning.

A few minutes earlier, at 7:24 a.m. a car driven by Charles Stubbs, 55, of 285 Kensington Pl. skidded into another car driven by Ormand E. Jordan, 29, at E. Church St. and Reed Ave.

Robert Beasley, 26, of 175 Johnson St. appeared at the police station at 7:25 p. m. yesterday and reported his car was involved in a mishap with another car a few minutes earlier at Main and Center Sts. but the other car did not stop. Beasley said his car hit the other from the rear.

A car parked at Orchard and W. Church Sts. at 4:55 p.m. yesterday was struck by another car driven by George R. Brazzel, 28, of 193 E. Center St.

A similar mishap occurred at 3:43 p.m. at Superior and S. Prospect Sts. when a car driven by Ray E. Wilson, 23, of 231 Lincoln Ave. struck a Mansfield company's truck parked at the corner.

Cars driven by Robert Cunningham, 37, of 450 Brightwood Dr. and William L. Shields, 44, of 368 Avondale Ave. collided at N. Greenwood and Van Buren Sts. at 2:54 p.m. yesteray.

Nineteen minutes earlier cars driven by Myrna Jean Long, 16, of near Marion and E. E. Clark of near Cardington collided at Orchard St. and Holmes Pl. at 2:35 p.m.

Only other accident was in the 600 block on Wilson Ave. at 12:34 p.m. involving cars driven by Richard G. Hupp, 25, of 312 Belmont St. and Dennis J. Miller, 44, of 633 Wilson Ave.

City Manager

voters could use the recall to remove council if it did not discharge an inefficient manager.

For the initiative and referendum, the commission decided to use the state statutes covering these points, feeling that state laws in this case were already tried and tested.

In its discussion of legislative procedure, the commission spent a great deal of time deciding the number needed to form a quorum or pass legislation. The final decision was that a majority of council membership would be needed to make a quorum and that the approval of a majority of the members would be needed to pass an ordinance.

Emergency Powers

The commission also voted to give council emergency powers. Under these powers, council, by agreement of two-thirds of its members, could pass legislation without requiring the reading of a proposed ordinance at three meetings.

The first of the four sections which the commission tentatively approved last night set up the qualifications for a city manager. It provided that:

1. Council shall appoint a city manager solely on the basis of his executive and administrative qualifications based on his training, experience and ability.

2. He shall not be a member of council.

3. He need not be a resident of the city or state at the time of his selection but shall live in the city or its immediate vicinity during his time in office.

4. His salary shall be set by council.

5. He shall serve for an indefinite term but shall be removable at the pleasure of council alone.

6. Before he can be removed, he is entitled to a public hearing at his request.

Clause Deleted

The commission passed this section after it deleted a clause which stated that council shall select the manager without regard to his political or religious beliefs. Commission members believed that a council would not consider such factors anyway, that the clause was superfluous and that it was covered by the federal constitution.

Another section passed last night designated the city manager as administrative head of the city and made him responsible to council, for the proper administration of his job.

Duties of Manager

The third section stated that the powers and duties of the city manager shall be:

1. To see that city laws and ordinances are enforced.

2. To exercise control over all departments coming under the administrative branch of municipal government.

3. To appoint and remove department heads and employes of the city, basing such action on merit and fitness, subject to civil service provisions.

4. To attend all meetings of council with the right to take part in discussion but having no vote.

5. To recommend for council's adoption such measures as he may deem necessary or advisable.

6. To prepare and present an annual budget to council and keep that group advised on the city's financial condition.

7. To require reports from his subordinates.

8. To submit reports to council.

9. To perform such other duties as council may designate.

The section setting up an amendment process provides that an amendment shall be presented to the electorate upon the request of 10 per cent of the voters and the approval of two-thirds of council. The amendment will become a part of the charter after being passed by a majority of the voters.

The commission also had a brief discussion on whether elected city officials should serve two or four-year terms, and, although the opinion seemed to be heavily in favor of the four-year plan it was decided to postpone a decision to allow more time for study of the question.

Next week the commission will take up the posts of solicitor, auditor and treasurer and will discuss any rough drafts that the drafting committee might submit.

Chairman Walter Moore told the group that he would bring up the section setting forth the powers of the mayor. Although that section was tentatively approved last week, Moore said he would like to add a clause specifically stating that the mayor is not to have the veto power.

Benefit Dance Nets $350 for Polio Hospital

More than $350 was raised at a benefit dance for the Magnetic Springs Polio Foundation held by the Phillippi - Clement American Legion Post 101 at LaRue Saturday night.

Ralph W. Dunkin of LaRue, chairman of the committee on arrangements, reported some 250 persons attended the affair and that total proceeds to be turned over to the foundation will be $365.39.

At the dance, the Bowling Green Grange presented Dr. Kenneth W. Keever, organizer of the foundation, with a check for $100. Mrs. Neil Little and Mrs. John T. Jones made the presentation on behalf of the grange.

At intermission time, Dr. Keever gave a brief talk outlining the plans of the foundation and reported success of the venture seems nearly assured now.

Dunkin reported the band of Tymochtee Grange of near Marseilles, which played for the dance, donated its fee to the foundation and offered to play a free return engagement on Feb. 13 for the same type of benefit dance.

Dunkin said present plans of the Post are to schedule the dance on that date and turn all proceeds over to the Magnetic Springs Foundation.

Tax Statements Go Into Mail; Books To Open

Tax statements of amounts due on real estate for 1953 were being placed in the mail today by the Marion County treasurer's office.

Tax books are scheduled to open tomorrow when the first half of 1953 taxes become payable at the treasurer's office in the Courthouse, Trasurer Marion Hinklin reported.

Tax amounts for the entire year are listed on the statements for the convenience of those taxpayers who would like to pay the entire amount at one time. Only the first half are due now, though, Hinklin said.

Office hours are being maintained from 8:30 a.m. to 4 p.m. Monday through Friday, and from 8:30 a.m. to 12 noon on Saturday.

Crawford County Court Releases Annual Report

BUCYRUS—A total of 352 new cases were filed last year in Crawford County Common Pleas Court, Clerk of Courts G. William Dustman announced. The 1953 total exceeded by 26 the totals for 1952 and 1951 and was two short of the record year of 1950 when 354 cases were filed.

Last year's cases included 312 civil actions, including 138 divorce cases, and 40 criminal cases. The divorce petition total was the largest in several years, Clerk Dustman observed.

Largest single monthly total was recorded in June with 46 new actions filed, followed by January with 32.

Bluffton Clerk Admits Taking Village Funds

LIMA, Ohio (AP)—The former village clerk of Bluffton has confessed the embezzlement of $1,600 to $1,700 in village funds, Prosecutor Anthony J. Bowers announced today.

Bowers said Charles R. Emans, 39, who served Bluffton more than five years in the dual role of village clerk and clerk of the Board of Public Affairs, appeared at his office yesterday to make an oral statement admitting the thefts.

The prosecutor said a charge of embezzlement of $861 in gasoline tax funds will be filed against Emans today. The shortage in that fund is the only one so far established by state examiners, Bowers, explained.

Bowers quoted Emans as saying the theft from the gasoline tax fund occurred in 1949 and the money was used to make a down payment on a new automobile.

Emans assured Bowers he will make restitution to the extent that he is able.

Emans served as clerk of the Board of Public Affairs from 1946 until shortly before his term as village clerk expired a year ago. He was elected village clerk in 1947.

State examiners told Bowers there appeared to be shortages in Bluffton's water and light funds. A complete audit is under way.

Crestline Driver Fined Following Galion Mishap

GALION—Arthur A. Akers, 31, of Crestline was fined $25 and costs in mayor's court here Monday morning on a reckless driving charge.

The charge arose from an auto accident Saturday morning in Galion. Akers' car struck a parked car on Harding Way East near the Riblet St. intersection, forcing the parked car into another parked auto, according to police reports. Akers hit the rear of the car which belongs to Russell Entler of Galion, damaging the rear and front of the vehicle and forcing it into a car owned by Richard Wittibschlager of near Galion, damaging the rear of his car. The entire front end of Akers' car was demolished. No one was injured in the mishap.

A 10-day jail sentence was suspended when Akers agreed to pay for damages to the cars.

Bucyrus Seeks $261 In Auto Accident Suit

BUCYRUS — Damages, totaling $261, are asked by George D. Stratton, of near Bucyrus, in a suit filed in Crawford County Common Pleas Court here against Jay I. Klopfenstein of Galion.

The suit is the outgrowth of a collision between cars, driven by Stratton and Klopfenstein, near the intersection of State Routes 19 and 602, seven miles southeast of Bucyrus on Dec. 8. Stratton claims Klopfenstein drove his car over the centerline of the road and struck his car. He asks $261 for damages to his car, towning and storage charges.

when told they were to be returned to U. N. custody.

Gen. John E. Hull, U. S. and U.N. Far East commander, flew to Korea from his Tokyo headquarters and said he would consider the anti-Communist prisoners "civilians wherever they happen to be at midnight Friday night."

He said the prisoners would be processed as soon as they are handed over.

Commanders on Hand

Hull and Gen. Maxwell Taylor, 8th Army commander, flew to the U. N. advance base at Munsan to be on hand when the prisoner transfer begins. They were to be joined by U. S. Army Secretary Robert T. Stevens.

The U. N. commander said Thimayya's assertion that release of the prisoners would constitute a violation of the armistice is not binding on the U. N.

"We all have differing opinions," he said, "but it is quite clear from the terms of reference (armistice) that the prisoners cannot be held as prisoners after midnight Jan. 22."

Thimayya talked with newsmen after a 45-minute meeting of the repatriation commission, at which, he said, each delegate reiterated his previous stand.

Indian Vote Decides

The Indian general said he believed all of the 22,039 Anti-Red POWs would be back in U. N. hands within 48 hours and that he anticipaed no trouble.

Indian and Allied officers conferred today on plans for moving Chinese prisoners from the demilitarized zone to a point where truck convoys will be waiting for them. Koreans will be moved to another point where they will board southbound trains.

The Chinese are to be loaded on landing ships to join Chinese Nationalist forces on Formosa.

Ohio Edison Rate Hike Hearing Ends

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—The state utilities commission has finished hearing 11 days of testimony on Ohio Edison Co.'s application to raise its electric rates by $1,900,000 a year before taxes for about 8,000 industrial customers.

The company testified yesterday it has spent 165 million dollars for improvements since the end of World War II and that construction costs have risen faster than its revenues.

Ohio Steel Foundry Co., Springfield; Massillon Steel Castings Co., and Farrell Cheek Steel Co., Sandusky, are protesting the application. Their attorneys attacked financial and technical exhibits of Ohio Edison.

Thirty-five counties in central and northeastern Ohio are served by the company.

Movies of Alcan Highway Slated at Services Tonight

Featured in addition to the sermon tonight at the union Spiritual victory Crusade at Epworth Methodist Church will be colored moving pictures of a trip up the Alcan Highway made by Rev. Charles Taylor and Rev. Laurie Taylor. The services are being sponsored by the Marion County Ministerial Association with the Taylor Brothers evangelistic team in charge.

Tonight, the sermon subject will be "No Money Down," with Rev. "Charlie" Taylor preaching. Rev. Laurie Taylor will play several selections on his special nine-foot Steinway piano.

Using baseball as a parallel to the "game of life," the evangelist preached Monday night on "Kill the Umpire!" He said, "The big moguls of baseball are worried over the fact that boys who ought to be on sandlots playing baseball are going to Wild West movies, sitting in front of television sets, and getting their thrills vicariously instead of taking part in the game.

"They are like their parents who have developed a mania for doing everything by proxy, so spectator sport has become the main relaxation of their lives. But spectator sport can be dangerous when a crowd gets the idea it can get what it wants by the sheer weight of numbers and noise.

"That is what happened in Pilate's hall when Jesus was on trial. Pilate knew he was innocent, but the crowd kept yelling 'Crucify' like we yell 'Kill the umpire!" until the record says, 'Their shouts carried the day.' They wanted Barabbas, a devil-may-care, Robin Hood type of outlaw, so they sold out. Jesus. The world hasn't changed much. We still largely choose the Barabbasas of this world and crucify Christ.

"But remember, it is the final score that wins the game. When Jesus came out of the grave alive He started a ninth inning rally that is still going on, and He is going to win this ball game. If you are on Barabbas' side you are on the wrong team. Better get on Jesus' team before it is too late."

"Has your department made any effort to reach agreement with the coffee-supplying nations to assure an adequate supply of the reduced (coffee) production for our needs? Have you initiated any conversations toward assuring this supply at fair prices?

"In other words, Mr. Secretary, what is our government doing—and also, what can it do under present authority—to arrange with the coffee producing nations for fairer marketing of coffee in the United States?

"I know every American housewife would be interesed in your answers."

40 Million Families

Sure, she explained, this may not be the weightiest problem Dulles faces at the moment. "But to 40 million American families," she added, "it's the kind of issue they wish he would get busy on right away, so that they, in turn, can fortify themselves properly in the mornings to read the newspaper accounts of his other problems and concerns."

Or, as she put it to Dulles, "without that solace (coffee) how can we possibly face up to the problems you want us to concern ourselves with?"

The only alternative to going without coffee, she said, was to water it down, and: "Muddy water may be all right in our rivers, but let's not be forced to drink it for breakfast."

A 20-year old Marion soldier, AWOL since November, was taken into custody here yesterday by military policemen from Fort Hayes in Columbus. He was returned to Fort Hayes this morning.

Telephone, First Aid Kit, Drills Taken in Burglary

Break-in at a Knowlton Construction Co. office on the Pearl Street School grounds with theft of a telephone, first aid kit, and some metal drills was reported to police yesterday by Glenn Price, an employe of the firm.

In addition to the thefts, a lantern in the office was smashed and papers, books and other items in the office were scattered about on the floor, he said.

Hissong Studies Court Decision On Censorship

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — If you can't ban a picture because it's immoral or because it incites crime, what can you ban it for?

That's the question being studied by Dr. Clyde Hissong, Ohio education director who also is state movie censor, following yesterday's U.S. Supreme Court decision.

The court held Ohio improperly banned the film "M" but stopped short of ruling censorship itself invalid.

Ohio censors banned "M", produced by Superior Films, calling it a sympathetic portrayal of the actions and emotions of a child-killing pervert.

On what basis can Ohio now ban films?

Dr. Hissong says the ruling "doesn't leave us much on which to base rejection of a film." Perhaps on the basis of obscenity, he remarked, but "that's already ruled out by the film industry itself."

He added it will be "exceedingly difficult to ban a film in Ohio in the future."

In the past 10 years, the director said, Ohio has prevented the showing of 47 films and deleted sections of others.

The Supreme Court ruling, involving New York and Ohio censors, upheld the contention of two film companies that constitutional guarantees of free speech and press had been violated.

Ohio Atty. Gen. C. William O'Neill withheld comment until he reads the Supreme Court decision.

The U.S. court ruling reversed the Ohio Supreme Court, which had upheld Hissong. Hissong's division of film censorship first rejected "M" April 23, 1951, then banned a toned-down version of the film Sept. 15, 1952.

Gov. Frank J. Lausche commented on the decision:

"Without having seen the opinion of the Supreme Court, my judgment is that the law of Ohio on moving picture censorship remains unchanged.

"I anticipate that Dr. Hissong and his associates will continue to exercise their judgment in barring from public exhibition those pictures which are of doubtful moral character."

In addition to the censorship division there are the censorship board and the advisory board of censorship, appointed by the governor. These boards review all questionable films before a final decision is made.

Kidnaping

The younger Moskovitz, father of two children, appeared rumpled and in need of a shave. He said the kidnapers threatened to multilate him, but actually did him no harm.

"They kept me shackled all the time," he said, "but they didn't harm me. They gave me water when I wanted it, and food."

Moskovitz left his office at 11 a. m. Saturday to keep several business appointments. He didn't keep any of them.

Get Ransom Note

Five hours later his family called the Missing Persons Bureau. Almost simultaneously a special delivery ransom demand arrived at the father's home in the exclusive Seacliff district overlooking the Golden Gate.

The letter, in Leonard's handwriting, demanded $500,000 and gave directions for the kidnapers through the personal column of the Examiner.

The father immediately called police and the biggest San Francisco manhunt in two decades was underway.

A telephone call was received at the Moskovitz' home at 12:25 p. m. Monday. Besides reducing the ransom demand to $300,000, the caller told Moskovitz to place the original ad in the paper when the money was ready.

Third Note Received

A third note, delivered Monday, read:

". . . It looks bad for me. They are really mad because your ad in this morning's Examiner said you did not have the money. . . They are willing to turn me loose for $300,000, but not a penny less. . . "

"Please for God's sake don't try to bargain. I swear to God they mean business. . . "

Police were assisted by FBI agents as observers, rather than participants. Regulations preclude the FBI from coming officially into a case until seven days after a kidnaping, or until there are indications the kidnapers crossed state lines.

Delaware County Man Heads Ohio Guard Unit

Lt. Col. Herbert B. Eagon of Radnor Township in Delaware County is the new commander of the 166th Infantry Regimental Combat Team, Ohio National Guard, which includes the local National Guard unit here.

He succeeds Col. Loren G. Windom, who was selected to succeed Brig. Gen. Delbert E. Schultz as assistant division commander of the 37th Infantry Division. Gen. Schultz resigned due to illness.

Lt. Col. Eagon, who served with the 37th Division during World War II, recently returned from Camp Polk, La., where he was assistant chief of staff, G-3, 37th Infantry Division. He has served in the armed forces for 26 years.

Upper Sandusky Board Elects Needs President

UPPER SANDUSKY — The Upper Sandusky Board of Education recently held their reorganizational meeting with the following results: president, David Needs Jr. and M. J. Kuenzli, vice president. Robert Troup has been elected to serve as clerk of the Board for a two-year term. Miss Ethel Krebs, who had served for six years, recently resigned that position.

Remodeling and painting is continuing in the Union School building. New flooring is being installed in several of the rooms.

The Board is purchasing a duplicator for East School. The P.T.A. recently purchased a similar duplicator for South School.

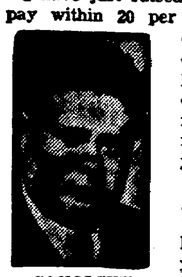
Friendship

By George Sokolsky

My Dear Friends in Europe, Asia and Africa, Greetings!

I have just raised the money to pay within 20 per cent of my estimated income tax and I know that I cannot afford it. That made me think of you.



SOKOLSKY

I do not begrudge you the aid that has come to you in so many forms from my earnings, but frankly I can no longer afford it. What with high prices and unbearable taxes, I am beginning to wonder how expensive friendship can be. It feels a little like keeping a woman in a mink coat, while your own baby goes without shoes. Of course, it is not quite as tough as that, but the feeling is the same.

You know, I have been a good sport since 1939. Anybody that asked, got. Some that did not ask, were given. We were generous because we thought that we had it, although all the time our money was being halved by inflation. Now we know that we cannot afford to be so generous truly and simply because we don't have the money.

BESIDES, my realistic and logical friends, what have you done for us lately? Take, for instance, India! You can say to me that I should take India. But I don't want India.

Think of the fast one that Madame Pandit has just pulled. The Korean prisoners-of-war, those who have sufficient self-respect not to wish to be Mao Tze-tung's slaves, are to be released at midnight January 22.

So this lady, whom our State Department chivalrously and fatuously made president of the General Assembly of the United Nations, has issued a call for a meeting on February 9, the replies to be in on January 22 with the gimmick that, no reply means consent. This can pour sand in the machinery.

Should we make India a present of more money, more aid, more subventions? I cannot afford to make gifts to friends, much less to enemies. I ought to keep my money to pay taxes without borrowing. I ought to keep it for my family, for the future.

AS FOR MY Italian cousins, I love them deeply. Supreme in the kitchen, glorious as tailors, brilliant as orators, they do suffer the Machiavellian curse, which is to play both sides against the middle. That is why Italy has so often been squeezed into nothingness as a nation. But there is resilience in this most complete mixture of races.

Nevertheless, why should we manufacture airplanes in Communist-run factories in Italy? Why should we give our money to the Italian government to set up printing plants to print Communist newspapers? Why should we buy Italian motion pictures, many of them produced and written and played by American Communists driven out of Hollywood by a wave of patriotism?

Does it make sense? Would you, my Italian friends, pay income taxes to support the enemies of your country? Do you pay your taxes, at all?

IF THE ITALIAN government attempted to collect such taxes as we pay, there would be a thousand uprisings and a thousand throats slit. But we are a peaceful, quiescent masochistic people. We pay and pay and pay and shout down those who complain.

Yes, my bambini, we even have courts of law and justice to inflict punishment on those who have the courage of a John Hampden, who refused to pay "ship money" and became one of the spiritual progenitors of our Revolution.

Alas, we have become so gentle that all you need to do is to put a hot pimiento in your Communists and we rush in with more money to save you.

Tell me, confidentially, are you worth saving or shall we let you fall to Tito? Or is there to be a grand session in the Kremlin to decide who is to be the suzerian over Italy, Togliatti or Tito?

DOES IT really matter to me, who has to pay taxes every day of my life, to keep Togliatti and Nenni and such creatures well-heeled through a "check-off" in the labor unions—a "check-off" for the Communist party in plants where American airplanes are made for the defense of Europe against Communism. It's all nuts, isn't it?

As ever for the brotherhood of man and a united world, but trying o keep my own hand in my own pocket.

CIO's Goal

By Victor Riesel

Walter Reuther has women on his mind.

But Mrs. Reuther needn't worry. There's safety in numbers and her terest is in about 1,000,000 of the country's working ladies. What's more his pre-occupation is purely organizational and political.

RIESEL

In office just a month longer than the year he needed to consolidate CIO, Reuther today wants to reach out somewhere for a million new members.

He believes that the most fertile area at this momnt of economic restlessness is among the women in the retail and department store fields. And of course, in business offices in cities built around CIO-organized industries, such as auto, steel or oil.

Because a union of a million, or even several hundred thousand women would be a powerful political force in any campaign, Reuther believes this is the year to launch a white-collar drive for what may well be the world's largest female labor outfit.

So, in Detroit, on Jan. 25, the CIO leader will meet with officials of CIO's Retail, Wholesale and Department Store Union to talk of his plans.

THERE, IT IS expected he will tell the feuding factions of this retail union to unite into one organizing committee with other CIO unions in the same field. This would be a move reminiscent of the early days of CIO in 1937.

The belief is that the warring CIO cliques in this field distrust each other so intensely and are so fearful that their own territories will be whittled down that Reuther himself may head the organizing drive.

Not the least of his problems is the bitterly controversial Distributive, Processing and Office Workers Union, once a rough swashbuckling follower of the Communist party's line.

It would make a powerful base for Reuther's retail and white collar workers drive. It has millions of dollars in cash and on the Stock Exchange, as well as heavy investments in real estate. I runs a New York skyscraper, replete with night club, private department store and restaurant.

But its officials have stood on the Fifth Amendment when asked by a congressional committee to tell what they know of the Communist party or if they had themselves been party members.

THE CIO TRIED to use the DPOW in an organizing drive in Texas recently, but the failure of its leaders to testify aroused the state. The union retreated faster than the armies of Santa Anna.

Today, the DPOW is a political liability, but the CIO's own retail and department store units are divided, weak and unsuitable as a base for a national drive. So Reuther and Bob Oliver, his aide in the CIO national office, have continued negotiations with the DPOW, which claims it has broken with the party line.

What Reuther's decision and tactics will be, only Reuther knows. There can be no doubt that they will be sudden and imaginative, it is said in the highest CIO circles.

These same echelons, in talking of this drive, recall an earlier Reuther proposal as characteristic of his thinking. After being elected CIO president, Reuther had to reconcile almost half of CIO which opposed him.

THOUGH HE is one of the transcontinental airlines' best cash customers, he just couldn't get across country enough in one year to see all his people. So he asked his broadcasting specialists to look into the use of a closed television circuit.

Thus he could talk to and be seen by his people who would gather in union halls or theaters across the land. This would operate on the same principle as the telecast prize fights. But at $35,000 a program, the cost was prohibitive. The project was postponed. But there are other tactics.

In Port Arthur, Texas, a CIO oil center, the DPOW hit 48 stores, hotels and restaurants on one day last November. The CIO approved.

In two Missouri towns, which are centers of CIO power in the glass and ceramics field, the CIO has been unionizing retail workers in restaurants, stores, bowling alleys, gas stations and dairies. There the old 1937 flying squad tactics of the Detroit organizing days have been used.

THERE, CARAVANS of pickets pull up to the storefronts at the height of the shopping day. That technique was used in the 30's by the early DPOW organizers in front of the big New York department stores. And it worked.

Whatever the approach, it is virtually certain that Reuther will reach into the white-collar field this year. Of the 19,000,000 working women, only some 3,000,000 are union label gals. That leaves a field of 16,000,000.

Even a drive which gives CIO five per cent of the ladies would be a great victory. It would net CIO one of the world's largest unions—and one potentially powerful politically.

Showmanship

By Laura Hobson

WASHINGTON

It took a woman to pop the question at the latest press conference, about a woman becoming president of the U.S.A., and I've just asked her how she came to do it.

HOBSON

"Did you plan it in advance," I said, "or blurt it out on the spur of the moment?"

"A little of both," she said, "Call it a sense of showmanship. The idea popped into my head a couple of days back, when I read about somebody asking Harry Truman the same thing, but then it popped right out again, and I clean forgot it."

She's Hazel Markel of the Mutual Broadcasting System, the only woman in Washington with a coast-to-coast radio program as a news commentator, and she's also president of the Women's National Press Club.

HAVING reminded President Eisenhower that the ex-president had said it was possible, she tactfully asked, "I wonder, after a year in your office, conceded to be the hardest job in the world, if you think it possible a woman might handle the job of executive?

President Eisenhower remarked that this subject could make for interesting conversation, and the crowded conference laughed expectantly.

He knew no reason, the President went on, why a woman's brain and heart couldn't be used in the presidency, but that out of his deep respect for woman's intelligence, and his admiration for their many other qualities, he might conclude they had too much sense to want the job.

It all made a light hearted interlude in the formal proceedings and Mrs. Markel admitted the episode almost never happened.

"The President was in a joyful mood," she said, "saying Happy New Year and that he hoped the reporters would all get raises. I did have a feeling of something on the tip of my tongue, but I didn't know what, and the regular questions -and- answers got going. Suddenly my idea popped back, so I came right out with it."

Her sense of showmanship may stem from her early experience as an actress. She also was, and still is, the holder of a Phi Beta Kappa key, won at the University of Washington, Hazel Markel being a native of Oregon, born in Pendleton, city of "the annual round-up"

AFTER OUR TALK, I checked back to find out exactly how ex-President Truman had handled this ticklish little query.

"There isn't any doubt," he's reported as saying, "but what a woman would make a good president. They make good senators, good members of the House of Representatives, and have held other important offices in the government of the United States."

"Nice going," lots of women must secretly feel as they read either of the two replies. But just the same, I'm sure many new generations will be born before any fond parents lean down over a crib and coo to an infant daughter, "Darling, maybe you'll grow up to be president of your country."

Crawford County Traffic Claims 22 Lives in 1953

BUCYRUS — Twenty-two persons lost their lives in traffic accidents in Crawford County last year, a survey showed today. The total represented a jump of about 75 per cent over the 1952 traffic fatality total of 13.

Seven of the 22 deaths occurred in one accident. That was a head-on collision near Bucyrus in April. Two Marines and all five members of a Lima family were injured fatally.

One traffic fatality has been recorded already this year with the death Jan. 5 of Garold A. Stoffer, 47, of Galion. He was killed when the car in which he was riding went off the road and turned over four times on State Route 19, east of Bucyrus.

Ohio State Patrolmen Hunting Stolen Airplane

PORTSMOUTH, Ohio (AP) — State Highway Patrolmen, who normally have all they can do to handle ground traffic, today were keeping at least one eye cocked skyward.

The patrol was ordered to watch for a stolen airplane belonging to Forrest G. Gossett of Portsmouth. Gossett reported yesterday someone had stolen his red, four-seat private airplane from its hanger at Raven Rock Airport, four miles west of Portsmouth on Ohio 52.

The Stuart kings of England were enthusiastic devotees of cock fighting and it was long called the "royal sport."

Fathers Will Assist the Mothers In March on Polio Here Jan. 28

When the mothers of Marion County take the field on the night of Jan. 28 to participate in the Mothers' March on Polio, they will have support from an unsung troop of fathers who will either baby-sit or drive them around on their collections.

In the city, the chances are that the marching hour of 7 to 8 p.m. will find many fathers, whose wives are taking part in the march, in the kitchen and later reading a story to junior and tucking him into bed.

In the cour , many of the husbands lend their wives a helping hand on the collections and act as chauffeurs since part of the collections are made after dark.

If Jan. 28 happens to be lodge night or dad's bowling night or the scheduled date for a poker session, the husbands of marching mothers will have to forego these recreational pursuits for one night.

Males also will assist in other capacities. Volunteers from various local organizations will act as escorts in transferring funds from the area captain collection centers to the National City Bank, and for guards and "minute men" during the collecting, transferring and counting phases of the campaign.

Bank tellers from the National City Bank have offered to donate their services to help count and package Mothers' March contributions.

And some male volunteers may even be used to march in the porchlight parade as "contact fathers" if there is a shortage of "contact mothers" in any locality. Any male wishing to give one hour of his time on the evening of Jan. 28 may volunteer by calling his area captain or by calling 2-3757, to volunteer for work in the city drive or 3-7628 to volunteer for county work.

Newest Legislator Gets More Pay in Colorado

DENVER (AP)—The Colorado Legislature's newest member also is its most highly paid.

Republican Sen. Fay De Berard of Kremmling will get $10 a day more than any other member. Here's why:

Last year the Legislature voted each member of future assemblies a $10-a-day expense allowance, in addition to the $10 daily pay and $50 monthly salary.

The law said it would become effective for any legislator appointed or elected after Dec. 1, 1953. De Berard was named late in December to fill a vacancy.

Sen. Green Hustler at 86

Age No Bar to Rhode Island's Senator

WASHINGTON (AP)—Anybody for tennis?

Well, Theodore Francis Green of Rhode Island is. At 86 Green the oldest U. S. senator, says tennis is still his best sport—and he prefers to play singles.

"But it is hard to find a good opponent," he complained mildly. "I got out on the court only once last year."

The senator hates to miss his tennis because that leaves him only one other athletic exercise—swimming.

"I have given up high diving and wrestling, which was my second favorite sport," he said, "and I just never seem to find the time to go mountain climbing any more.

"I'm interested in too many things—that's my trouble. I like to wander in so many alleys of life. I feel I ought to read this or do that. I'm curious about every thing. I don't know whether it's a good habit or a bad one."

Green, a gray-mustached little man with spirit of a thrifty cricket, is in many ways the most unusual member of the Senate. Descendant of a three-centuries-old New England Yankee family, he is a New Deal Democrat, a bachlor, and one of the five wealthiest senators, yet he walks 2½ miles to his office every morning, and usually takes a bus or trolley car home.

Few men in Congress can match his active social life—"I rarely dine alone" — and few have traveled abroad more widely on official missions. A younger congressman who made one trip with him said:

"He wears us out. He's up early and late—and always as fresh as a daisy."

Green, who recently returned from visiting 13 South American countries, likes to eat native dishes wherever he goes.

"I love to meet people and get to know them," he said, "and the best way to get people to accept you as one of them is to follow their customs."

The senator, who began his career here in his 70th year, rarely makes speeches, but is meticulously busy in committee activities, where the real work of Congress is done.

"The Senate is his life," said Sen. Lyndon Johnson of Texas, Democratic leader. "He is one of the wisest men here, and we all learn from him. He is very gentle in his manner, but very firm of principle. When it is time for a position to be taken, you won't find Sen. Green heading for the door. And you never have any trouble locating him if a close vote is coming up.

"He is younger than many a man of 60."

Green feels one way to retain a youthful outlook is to have both an indoor hobby and an outdoor hobby.

"My present indoor hobby—my latest and last love — is Chinese paintings," he said. "But I have collected things all my life, from stamps and shells and seaweeds to etchings and books on Rhode Island history."

Interesting items in his past collections: A piece of the Atlantic cable, a bottle of water from the River Jordan, and a glove he wore as a boy when he shook hands with President Rutherford B. Hayes.

"Unfortunately, I shook hands with Hayes with my right hand but found later I had saved the left hand glove," he said. "It seemed quite a tragedy to me when I first discovered my mistake—but I have gotten over it."

President Hayes died in 1893.

Sen. Green, who once taught Roman law at Brown University, has a long view of history and is optimistic about the future.

"There is a threat to the world in the conflict between liberal and reactionary forces," he said. "but I think the liberal forces will prevail.

"Things may not be as efficient in some ways under a democracy as under another form of government, but the people are happier. And that's the test. The world is progressing. It is a wonderful thing merely to be alive in it and to have a chance to help make it better.

The senator takes with wry aplomb his reputation of still being one of the capital's most eligible bachelors.

"Is it because of my sweet disposition," he asked with a cricket grin, "or because I could pay a wife's bills?"

BIE Day Tour Planned By Industrial Leaders

A tentative date of Feb. 25 has been set for the fourth annual Business Industry Education Day for senior commercial students in the county school system.

The date was selected yesterday afternoon at a meeting of the industrial Leaders Conference at the Hotel Harding.

The BIE Day for county school students is similar to the one held in the fall for seniors from public and parochial high schools in the city. The students will attend a luncheon and tour local businesses and industries. Some 125 county school seniors are expected to take part.

Candidacy Petition Filed by Clements

Maurice Clements yesterday filed his petition of candidacy with the Board of Elections signifying that he will seek the Republican nomination for Marion County auditor to succeed himself.

This will be his bid for his second full-term in office. In 1948 he was appointed auditor to fill the post after the death of Harry V. Mounts. In November of that year he was elected to fill the unexpired term, and in November of 1950 he was elected to his first full-term as auditor.

Insurance Agents Meet

Northern Ohio insurance representatives of the Bankers Life and Casualty Co. gathered at Hotel Harding yesterday for the second in a series of staff sales meetings to be held here during the next two months.

The group discussed policies and other business. John Taylor of Richwood, supervisor of the Northern Ohio staff, was in charge.

More people have been moving in the last few years than in any other period in our history

31 million people will move this year

America is on the move! Families are moving to better homes in the same area . . . from one section of the country to another. City people are shifting to the suburbs.

Families are getting larger and need homes for three, four and five or more children. And with Americans living longer these days, more and more elderly couples are moving to homes better suited to retirement living.

Life insurance funds are playing a major role in this changing picture—through investments that help create new jobs, and the financing of new homes.

For example, by the end of last year, the life insurance companies had loaned nearly $34 billion of policyholder funds for the development of business and industry. As new plants, factories, mills and office buildings go up—and as old ones are expanded and modernized—they create new jobs and attract workers from many parts of the country.

In addition, the life insurance companies are helping build new homes. At the end of 1953, they had invested over $23 billion in real estate mortgages—three and one half times as much as they had invested in 1945.

And a portion of the funds needed to build housing developments and rental dwellings has come from life insurance companies.

* * *

These are among the ways in which the life insurance companies promote the welfare of our communities while guarding the security of our individual families.

Former Nurse Leaves Estate to Government

DAYTON, Ohio (AP)—A former Army nurse who died last week at the Veterans Administration center here left most of her estate to the Federal Treasury, her will, filed in Probate Court yesterday, revealed.

Teckla M. Scheldrup made the bequest "in appreciation of what the U. S. government has given me for my maintenance and support over the years."

James T. Cline, executor of the will, said the estate will exceed $5,000. Miss Scheldrup made specific bequests totaling $1,700, including $200 to the Central Lutheran Church of Stoughton, Wis.

Cline said Miss Scheldrup was a World War I nurse and had lived at the center for many years.

N.Y. Stock Quotations

NEW YORK (AP)—Trading picked up speed today as the stock market advanced moderately.

Stocks moved narrowly at the start and became quiet after the opening rush cleared.

Gains ran to around a point at the best. Despite the rise, however, many small minus signs remained in the list.

General Motors gained a point on the news that a billion dollar expansion program is planned for the next two years.

Higher stocks included Southern Railway, Sunray Oil, Richfield Oil, Universal Pictures, Phillips Petroleum, American Telephone, Consolidated Natural Gas, Du Pont, U.S. Steel, Chrysler, Douglas Aircraft, and National Distillers.

Lower were Chesapeake & Ohio, United Air Lines, Consolidated Edison, American Woolen, Goodrich, and United Aircraft.

Irish Opponent Ranked Second in Class B Listings

Delphos Brings 14-1 Mark Into Court Struggle Tonight

St. Mary's Irish cagers meet their most formidable opposition of the 1953-54 hardwood season tonight when Delphos St. John's crew of six-footers invade the Coliseum.

The visitors are ranked second best Class B cage squad in the state in the first Associated Press poll, trailing only Lockland Wayne.

Tonight's game, first of two this week for the Irish, will be preceded by the reserve contest at 6:30 p.m. St. Mary entertains Columbus Holy Rosary Saturday night.

The visiting Blue Jays, long an Ohio Class B cage power, bring an impressive 14-1 mark here. Delphos' lone loss, a 72-68 decision to Ottoville, came after 12 straight wins. Since then, the Jays have rolled by Ada 84-34 and St. Henry 73-57.

3 Six-Footers

The visitors' expected starting lineup will contain three six-footers and Coach Robert Arnzen will have six others who scale the six-foot mark available for action on the bench.

Big guns for the Blue Jays are Ralph Elwer, 6-5 senior, and Barney Altman, another senior who reaches 6-2. Elwer will operate at center while Altman, playing varsity ball for the fourth year, will be playing forward.

Other probable starters are Mike Wolfhorst, 6-0 senior, at the other forward post; and Rudy Grothouse, a senior, and Charles Geise, a junior, both 5-10, at the guard slots.

A lettermen likely to see action is Bob Kill, a 6-2 junior forward. Other six-footers ready for action are Francis Nomina, 6-2 junior forward; Gilbert Pohlman, 6-3 sophomore forward; Bob Pothast, 6-2 sophomore center; Joe Youngpeter, 6-1 sophomore guard; and Ronald Grothouse, 6-1 sophomore forward. Other member of the varsity is Gerald Wannemacher, 5-11 sophomore guard.

St. Mary will likely counter with Mike Anderson, 5-11, and Jack O'Keefe, 5-10½, at forwards; Roger Micheli, 5-10½, at center; and John Messenger and Butch Merchant, both 5-7, at guards.

Anderson, last year's top Irish point-getter, is currently pacing the locals through 12 contests with 181 points. Merchant trails him with 131 while Micheli has 109. Messenger has notched 52 and O'Keeffe has added 39. Jerry Ballenger has 3 points to his credit.

Streak Threatened

Winning only three of their first seven outings, Coach Ray Robbins' charges have come back to notch five straight wins and boost their record to 8-4. Latest victory was an easy 64-24 win over a weak Columbus St. Mary five Satruday night. The tilt signaled the beginning of a seven-game home stand. Of the remaining eight games on the Irish schedule, only one—with Fredericktown—is away.

Delphos St. John's record to date has been formed on wins over Celina I.C.H.S. 75-37, New Knoxville 70-54, Toledo Central 57-51, St. Marys 91-51, Lima St .John's 63-60 in overtime, Dayton Dunbar 68-50, Van Wert 65-54, Newport Catholic 60-51, Coldwater 73-47, Minster 70-48, Lima St. Rose 60-45, Ft. Jennings 68-43; Ada; and St. Henry and the single loss to Ottoville.

Last year at Delphos, the Blue Jays snowed under the Irish 75-55 after going into the final frame with only a 47-42 edge. Twenty-eight points in the final period turned the tide. It marked the 10th straight win for the home team. Getting 15 points in that final stanza, Leon Youngpeter, a 5-11½ guard, wound up with 27 for individual scoring honors. Next came Roger Giese, a 5-11 forward, with 18 points. The Irish won't be seeing them again as they graduated. But Altman dropped in 14 while Elwer pumped in 13 in that game.

In 1952, St. Mary's powerful squad dumped the Delphos quintet 66-57 for its eighth straight victory but the year befort, Delphos walked off with a 46-42 win after St. Mary went into the final quarter nursing a 38-33 bulge.

Pierce, Sauer Sign; Mathews Joins Holdouts

NEW YORK (AP)—The Chicago White Sox and the Chicago Cubs each had another big catch in the contract bag today. But Milwaukee slugger Eddie Mathews joined the increasing group of dissatisfied major leaguers.

Lefty Billy Pierce, who along with Virgil Trucks kept the Chisox in the American League pennant running last season, came to terms for 1954 and "became one of the highest paid pitchers in the club's history," according to General Manager Frank Lane.

Pierce won 18 games and dropped 12 last year, finished second in earned runs with a 2.72 mark and had a stretch of 40 1-3 scoreless innings. Trucks already is in the White Sox fold.

Hank Sauer, the National League's Most Valuable Player in 152, signed a Cubs' contract and promised to "fight with all I've got" to return to his form of two seasons ago. He slumped to 19 home runs after hitting 37 the previous year. Ralph Kiner, the Cubs' other home run threat, signed last week.

Mathews, the National League's home run king last year, hasn't talked turkey with John Quinn, Braves' general manager, since last fall but he said he "may hold out."

"After last season the club tried to get me to sign," he explained. "But I wasn't satisfied with what they offered me. I doubt if we'll get together very fast."

Besides Sauer, the Cubs also signed outfielder Hal Jeffcoat and rookie infielder Don Robertson. The Philadelphia Athletics signed five players, including outfielder Ed McGhee and pitcher Bob Cain, recently acquired from Baltimore.

Morrow Cage Tourney Slated To Begin Feb. 17

MT. GILEAD — The Morrow County basketball tournament to be held Feb. 17, 19, 22, 24, 26 and 27. Drawings will probably be held Saturday, Feb. 6 at the office of the county superintendent of schools T. A. Gantz.

Opening round, semi-finals and finals will be played at the Marion Coliseum on Feb. 17, 22 and 26. Consolation games will be played at the Mt. Gilead gym on the other dates. Wilbur Spies, superintendent of the Chesterville schools, will handle administrative duties for the tourney. Richard Fuller, superintendent of the Marengo schools, is chairman of the county athletic committee. Supt. L. J. Patterson of Cardington will make up the county league schedule for 1954-55 season. Supt. Paul Furniss of Johnsville has been asked to contact the chairman of the county music teachers group to discuss music for tournament games.

Neil Worden holds the Notre Dame record for scoring the most touchdowns in a three-year career. Worden tallied 29 times.

SHORT SPORTS

By John Short

Ordinarily Marion sports fans are concerned mainly with the opening game of the Cleveland Indians during the last two weeks of April but this year it will be different. On Sunday, April 25, this city will become the motorcycle center of Ohio.

SHORT

On that date the Triangle Motorcycle Club of Marion will be host to cyclists from throughout the state for an Ohio state "good road run." Officials of the local club are planning for an entry list as high as 250.

The run will start from W. Center St. in front of the Eagles' Hall. Mrs. Evelyn Dane, spokesman for the sponsoring group, reports the cyclists will cover a 225-mile route during their try for the winning trophy. Thirty - five other trophies will be awarded the high point finishers. The championship trophy and the other awards have all been donated by Marion merchants and will be placed on display in windows of various firms before the event.

The run will be sanctioned by the American Motorcycle Association and several of Ohio's leading riders have indicated they will be on hand. Plans call for an elaborate ceremony at the start of the race at 7 a.m. and also for an evening dinner at the end of the event.

Bob LeMay is president of the Triangle Club and Corea Tubbs is vicepresident; Roger Solie is secretary and Luther Amrine, treasurer. Other officers include Don Garverick, road captain; Jim Powelson, reporter, Glen Dane Jr., referee; and Dane, Amrine and Bob Atkinson, trustees.

Next problem confronting the sponsoring club, according to Mrs. Dane, is laying out a route Several considerations must be made in this project with the the main one being the location of a lunchtime layover.

The run will be held over regular state highways. However, the cycles will present no traffic menace. The drivers are not competing in a speed event. They are simply matching their skill against a pre-arranged time schedule and the winner will be the driver coming in closest to the pre-arranged schedule. Actually drivers are penalized two points for reaching their check spots early while those arriving late lose only one.

Football Coach Resigns Position at Steubenville

The 40-year-old mentor said last night he had been thinking of entering school administrative work for some time. He asked to be retained on the school faculty.

His team had an 8-1-1 record last season.

MORE HONORS FOR TRIBE'S ROSEN. Cleveland Indians' Al Rosen, the American League's Most Valuable Player in 1953, gets acquainted with his new, seven-pound, two-ounce son in Cleveland's Mount Sinai Hospital. Nurse Margaret Scottson holds the infant. Several hours later, Rosen got another honor—he was saluted as Cleveland's "Baseball Man of the Year" at a dinner of the Cleveland chapter of the Baseball Writers' Association.

Rosen Honored As Cleveland's Man of Year

CLEVELAND (AP) — Cleveland's baseball writers bestowed their highest honor on greying Al Rosen last night. But Al apologized and admitted it was only the second greatest day in his life.

"The first greatest was the day I married my wife, Terry," the Cleveland Indians third baseman told the gathering at Hotel Hollenden.

Rosen had good cause to keep his thoughts close to his wife. Just a few hours before she had given birth to their first child, a 7-pound boy, who arrived several weeks ahead of schedule.

Many dabbed at their eyes in the darkened room as the 28-year-old player embraced his mother, Mrs. Sol Gould of New York, a surprise guest, and listened to a recording of the voices of his wife and new son.

The Cleveland Baseball Writers Assn. had picked Rosen the "Man of the Year" in Cleveland baseball. He was honored at their annual "Ribs and Roast" banquet.

"I'm so proud to be here," he told the audience of sports and civic notables. "It's been quite a day, the proudest day of my life. I hope that in years to come you'll have reason to root for Al Rosen of the Indians . . . ."

Rosen, named the American's League's most valuable player last season, received a silver tray and two air conditioning units.

Hank Greenberg, general manager of the Indians, delivered a half serious, half facetious talk in which he said the Indians' annual payroll of $500,000 is the highest in baseball.

"When that comes out, we'll be told we pay so much because we're dumb," he said. "But as soon as a cheap ball player holds out, he becomes the best man on our roster and we are forced to raise his pay and get him signed."

He observed that although Cleveland sports writers are continually demanding new faces among the Tribesmen, only 11 men who were with the team in 1950 will be back next year.

Bait tongs made of plastic now are available to anglers squemish about handling helgramites, crawfish, worms and other live bait.

OSU Schedules New Grid Foe, Rehires Staff

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Ohio State and Penn State will meet on the football field Oct. 20, 1956, 24 years after a dispute over "rough play" broke up their only other meeting.

Ohio State announced yesterday the game will be played in Columbus. Filling of that date completes the Buckeye football schedule for the next three years. The game will be played on a single-contest basis, with no provision made for future meetings.

When the two teams played here in 1922, Ohio State Coach John Richards ordered his team off the field in the fourth quarter because of what he called abusive language and rough play of Penn athletes. Penn State led 37-0 at the time. Officials forfeited the game to Penn but both schools carry the score as 37-0 on their records.

Sept. 29, Nebraska; Oct. 6, Stanford, Oct. 13, at Illinois; Oct. 20, Penn State; Oct. 27, Wisconsin; Nov. 3, at Northwestern; Nov. 10, Indiana; Nov. 17, Iowa (site not determined); Nov. 24 Michigan.

The Ohio State board of trustees also announced the rehiring of Head Coach Woody Hayes and his entire football coaching staff.

The Buckeyes 1953 record was 6-3.

Schlundt Sets Big 10 Record As Buck Quintet Falls 94-72

BLOOMINGTON, Ind. (AP) — Ohio State still can't win for losing in Big Ten basketball competition.

The Buckeyes—facing the third-ranked team in the country—took a 94-72 whipping from Indiana last night to run their Western Conference record for the season to 4 losses against 1 win.

While they were being hammered by big Don Schlundt and company, the Bucks saw their overall record teeter tc an uncomfortable 7-6 mark.

Ohio State has been able to beat only Purdue in the conference and has lost twice to Illinois and once to Michigan.

But it is no disgrace to lose to the powerful Hoosiers—especially when 6-foot, 10-inch Schlundt is on, and he was last night, 47 points worth. Schlundt cracked the conference record previously held by Dick Ives of Iowa. Ives scored 43 against Chicago in 1944.

While breaking that record and the Indiana field house mark of 36 as well, the Hoosier hotshot held Ohio State's scoring star Paul Ebert to 20 points, about 5 below his pre-game average. But Ebert, six inches shorter than his opposing center, had himself to blame, too. He missed 11 of 19 free throws. Schlund tallied 15 of 17 free tosses.

Ebert's effectiveness was lessened by being forced to foul to keep Schlundt in check. He left the game with 5. Schlundt was charged with only 2.

John Miller was the only Buck able to hit consistently. His 10 field goals and 5 foul shots gave him 25 points.

County Fish, Game Unit Installs New Officers

New officers and trustees were installed at a recent monthly meeting of the Marion County Fish & Game Association.

Richard Leonard is president.

John Zimmerman, past president, acted as installing officer. The new president appointed committee chairmen and outlined a tentative program for the coming year. Following the business meeting, colored films were shown.

Hoosier Junior Running Out of Court Records

By BEN PHLEGAR

NEW YORK (AP)—At his present pace big Don Schlundt is going to run out of records to break long before he finishes his spectacular basketball career at Indiana University.

The 6-foot-9 center, just approaching the midway point in his junior year, already owns the individual scoring records for many of the Midwest's main basketball arenas. Last night, he added two more prizes to his long string—the Big Ten mark and the record for his home floor at Bloomington.

Shooting with amazing accuracy, he scored 47 points as the hurrying Hoosiers ran away from Ohio State 94-72 for their sixth straight conference triumph.

The old Big Ten mark of 43 by Iowa's Dick Ives had stood for 10 years. Schlundt's total was 11 above the former Indiana fieldhouse mark as he connected on 16 field goals in 27 attempts and on 15 of 17 free throws.

Indiana, No. 3 behind Kentucky and Duquesne, was the only member of the nation's top 10 teams in action last night. Three of the second 10 were busy with Maryland, No. 14, whipping Virginia 70-56; Kansas, No. 17, defeating Iowa State 76-61; and Illinois, No. 20, getting beaten by Iowa 79-70.

Wisconsin made 25 of 30 free throws in defeating Michigan State 57-53 in a Big Ten game. Two foul shots by sub Bobby Delpit with seven seconds left gave Tulane a 63-61 Southeastern Conference decision over Tennessee. Davidson surprised Virginia Tech with a second-half splurge that brought an 87-69 Southern Conference victory.

Tulsa held Murray State to four points in the final 15 minutes in scoring a 61-51 overtime verdict.

Wyoming climbed into a tie with Colorado A&M in the Skyline Conference by edging New Mexico 56-53. West Texas State took over the lead in the Border Conference with its fourth in a row, 67-60 over New Mexico A&M.

Tulane's triumph over Tennessee put the Green Wave in third place in the Southeastern behind Louisiana State and Kentucky as Vanderbilt stumbled before Mississippi 78-74.

Rice moved back into contention in the Southwest Conference by beating Arkansas 80-55, and Texas Christian defeated Baylor 73-60.

Bradley rolled over Houston 86-71. Seton Hall made the poorest defensive showing of its basketball history in bowing to John Carroll 94-86.

Patton To Compete Against McKenley

LONG BEACH, Calif. (AP)—Sprinter Mel Patton, who set existing records in three events more than four years ago, figure he'll give Australians a good run for their money next month.

But the long-legged former University of Southern California star, now 29, lets it be known his living will continue to come from teaching, not sprinting. He'll train whenever he can sandwich it in.

Patton confirmed the announcement from Melbourne yesterday that he has agreed to race against Jamaican Herb McKenley and leading Aussie pros in what is billed as the world professional foot racing championships. He declined to say how much cash he'll get.

Since the races are Feb. 12 and 19, he'll have to get in shape in a hurry. Weighing 152, or just four pounds more than when in college, he thinks he can do it—but doesn't expect anything like his 9.3-second record in the 100-yard dash or 20.2 in the 220-yard and 200-meter events.

Directors Meet

Stars' Finances, Mohawks Biggest Troubles for IHL

CINCINNATI (AP) — Directors of the International Hockey League meet in Detroit today to see if they can solve Louisville's financial plight.

The Stars turned over their franchise to the nine-club league when support from the Kentucky fans failed to keep the club in pucks. They planned last Sunday's game as a finale to Louisville, but an unexpected large turnout prompted the players to vote to host Marion as scheduled Thursday night.

The players will split the ticket-take.

The directors may make Louisville a traveling club, talk around the circuit indicates. Indianapolis, a non-league city which once supported organized hockey, may get a share of Louisville's home game schedule.

Meanwhile the other clubs were having difficulties with familiar trouble—the Cincinnati Mohawks. The defending IHL champions won all four of its battles last week, outscoring Johnstown, Fort Wayne, Toledo and Grand Rapids 31-6.

Cincinnati is now 5 full games ahead of second-place Toledo which, aside from its loss to the Mohawks, won 2 and tied 1. Marion remained in third with a double win and a single setback.

Three teams kept it a fourth place scramble with a single win, though Grand Rapids lost 3, Troy 2 and Johnstown 1 in the week's activities.

Louisville tied Toledo and Fort Wayne and loss to Toledo, 8-0.

Fort Wayne dropped two, won one and tied one. The long-time cellar-dwellers, Milwaukee, lost its one game.

5 Top Squads Retain Lead in Collegiate Race

By HUGH FULLERTON JR.

NEW YORK (AP)—Until one of the five top teams takes a resounding tumble, the race for the top of the college basketball heap looks like a closed affair, with five "haves" outdistancing a large group of "have nots."

The first five teams in the weekly Associated Press poll remained unchanged this week, although there was one change in their order, as 127 sports writers and broadcasters sent in ballots.

The undefeated (11-0) Kentucky Wildcats remained in the No. 1 spot with first-place votes from 42 of the 127 experts. Their point total, on the usual basis of 10 for first, 9 for second, etc., mounted to 1,106.

Duquesne, in second place, received 30 firsts and 995 points and third-place Indiana 16 firsts and 905 points.

Western Kentucky, running its winning streak to 16 straight games, moved ahead of Oklahoma A&M into fourth place, reversing their positions of a week ago. Western polled 769 points to the Aggies' 697.

Then came a big drop in the point ratings and, indicative of the quick changes that can take place when one of the leaders is beaten, Notre Dame was ranked sixth with 221 points.

A week ago the Irish collected only a few scattered points in the poll, but Notre Dame handed Holy Cross its first defeat last week. And this, combined with an otherwise good record, moved the Irish into the place vacated by the Crusaders.

Holy Cross dropped to eighth behind Oklahoma City. Other major switches in the rankings saw George Washington, also beaten for the first time, slip from seventh place to 10th and Duke, taking its fourth defeat, from ninth to 13th.

The leading teams on a 10-9-8-7-6-5-4-3-2-1 point basis (first-place votes in parentheses):

1.	Kentucky (42)	1,106
2.	Duquesne (30)	995
3.	Indiana (16)	905
4.	Western Kentucky (9)	769
5.	Oklahoma A&M (7)	697
6.	Notre Dame (2)	221
7.	Oklahoma City (5)	211

Jesse Owens Honored

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Jesse Owens, former Ohio State track star and Olympic champion, will be among those honored at the annual dinner of the Philadelphia sportswriters Jan. 25.

Owens, who won four medals in the 1936 Olympics and once set five world records in one afternoon, was announced yesterday as the track and field representative in the sportswriters half-century parade of champions.

CRESTLINE AT UPPER

UPPER SANDUSKY — The Upper Sandusky High School Rams will meet Crestline here for their second NOL basketball game of the season at 7 p.m. Friday. The Rams dropped the league opener to Bellevue last week by a 44-66 score. The Redmen's 6-3 center, Jim Strayer, led the scoring with 21 and captured the lion's share of the rebounds at both baskets. The Rams have won three and lost five.

OKLAHOMA CITY (AP)—The bride and groom almost spent their wedding night in the city jail after playful friends reported to police after the wedding that the groom's car was stolen.

Police spotted the vehicle and two cars gave chase. When they stopped it they found a sheepish William Robert Seiler taking his bride back to Edmond.

Hamilton Leads Middletown in State Cage Poll

By FRITZ HOWELL

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Butler County, where 6 of the last 10 class A championships have gone, is still Ohio's high school basketball capital.

Hamilton and Middletown, twin powerhouses from the southwestern sector, were named today as the one-two teams in the state by 25 newspaper and radio sports editors in the first Associated Press poll of this campaign.

Warren Scholler's Hamilton team was voted the No. 1 Class quintet, its 12-game schedule marred only by a 1-point loss to Class B Lockland Wayne—the No. 1 team in the small school division. Seven of the scribes named Hamilton as first choice.

Middletown, with an 8-2 record, was the No. 2 selection although failing to get a first place vote, the editors figuring Paul Walker could steer the Middies far along the path to the state crown which they've captured 5 of the last 10 campaigns.

No one was close to Joe Martin's Lockland Wayne team in Class B, the all-Negro school piling up 106 points on the 10-9-8-etc. basis to second place Delphos St. John's 48. Lockland Wayne won the state Class B crown in 1952, and Delphos St. John in 1949. Defending champion Mariemont failed to get a mention in the opening poll.

Middletown won the state Class A laurels in 1944, 1946, 1947, 1952 and 1953, and Hamilton in 1949. Springfield's 1950 conquest gave the southwestern district its seventh triumph in the last 10 starts, with only Findlay (1948) and Bellevue (1945) of the northwest sector, and Columbus East (1951) of the central area, able to break the stranglehold.

While the big-timers were having their inning in the team races, the individual stars were putting on some scintillating performances.

Dick Bogenrife of Sedalia Midway pumped 42 points in against West Jefferson last week to boost his 15-game total to 568, an average of 37.8 which tops the state. Dick set the state single-game record a year ago with 120 points.

Top scoring feat last week by Bob Hunter, 6-3 senior from Killbuck of Holmes County, who scored 73 to beat Coshocton Sacred Heart 95-25.

Contrast: Down in Monroe County is Bethel High of Marr, which has 16 boys enrolled—all on the basketball team. The ace is Norman Martin, a 6-3 honor student who has scored 467 points for a 33.4 average as the team, coached by Richard L. Potts, has won 13 of 14.

And over in Wayne County is Mount aton, coached by Joe Pagnanelli. Mount Eaton has 14 boys, all on the basketball squad, and 23 girls. Mount Eaton has lost 99 games in a row—but is still trying.

From here and there: Waynesburg, which hasn't been beaten in its last 60 Stark County league games, is going again with nine in a row . . . with Mario Dematteis averaging 28.9.

Other unbeaten teams include: Greenfield McClain 12-0, Ashland 10-0, Niles McKinley and Tecumseh 9-0, and Fremont Ross and Kent Roosevelt 8-0; Class B-Glenford and Vienna 16-0, Holgate 14-0, Strasburg 13-0, Bloomfield 12-0, and Columbus Grove 11-0.

Springfield Public, with a 5-6 record, hasn't won on the road and hasn't lost at home . . . Columbus North, with 12 straight, is after its first city league crown since 1939.

Here's how the newspaper and radio sports editors rate the teams this week:

CLASS A

Elevator Squad Grabs Sixth in Y Cage League

Green Camp Elevator annexed its sixth straight game of the YMCA Basketball program for the combined Industrial and Independent Leagues at the YMCA Monday by crushing Alloy Cast Steel 63-30. The three-time Independent League champions took two periods to get started, holding a slim 11-8 first quarter lead and a 25-17 edge at half time. Green Camp's rout was the result of a 26-point final period where every man got into the scoring act while the defense limited Alloy to five points. Ron Craycraft with 14 points and Bob Weston with 12 lead the Green Campers while Harold Garver had 11 for Alloy.

In the second game on the card, the Ashley Merchants dumped G. I. Post 58-47 to capture their fifth win in six starts. Ashley took a 16 - 9 lead at the finish of the first quarter and were never headed. A second-period spurt cut the winners' lead to three points at half time but in the second half the. Merchants pulled away. Ted Hershey, the league's most outstanding set shot artist, connected for 22 points mostly from beyond the foul circle to lead Ashley. Dick Howard chipped in with 16 with his one-hand push shot to aid the winners. Max Roseberry, with 11 tallies, led the G.I. Post scoring.

Raymond finally broke out of the losing column by blasting the Waldo Merchants 75-53. After dropping five straight, the Raymond five broke a scoring draught which netted it its highest point output of the year. Robinson of the Raymond squad dropped in 18 points to lead the scorers while Don Shultz had 17 for Waldo.

Minnesota Father Protests School's Ruling on Showers

BEMIDJI, Minn. (AP)—A father told a public meeting last night his twin boys would be kept from school if they had to take group showers.

Norman G. Moe, a service station employee, told some 60 adults at the meeting, "My children are not going to school if they have to go through that.

"There are plenty of places where they can go to school without being run like beasts in a market place."

Moe was recently given a 30-day suspended sentence on charges of failure to send his children to school. The sentence was suspended on condition he return his 13-year-old boys to school or that he present a physician's certificate indicating they were not in suitable health. The boys were absent last week with rheumatic fever.

The school board granted Moe's request for the public meeting. School authorities indicated an arrangement may be worked out to permit his boys to shower separately.

Night Games Banned

Youth Confesses Stabbing Of Cage Player in Detroit

DETROIT (AP)—A 16-year-old boy has admitted the ice pick stabbing and serious wounding of a high school basketball player which has led to a ban on all major night-time athletics in Detroit's public prep schools.

The ban, a drastic action without precedent here, was ordered by school Supt. Arthur Dondineau yesterday after a swift huddle with school principals. Their meeting lasted only five minutes.

In the background was a long period of youngster hoodlumism at prep after-dark games. Public concern has long been evident.

Football income will be affected particularly. The ban includes both football and basketball. All games now must be played in the day time.

The stabbing victim, Ross DeBoskey, 17, MacKenzie High School star, remained in serious condition at Receiving Hospital. One lung was punctured. He was stabbed in the back.

Police said the boy who admitted the stabbing told of it this way: "Somebody else had his (DeBoskey's) head and everybody else was beating him, so I stuck him."

Police Inspector Ralph Baker said the 16-year-old, a college preparatory student, admitted the stabbing after all-day questioning. The stabbing took place Friday night.

Police have arrested 14 youths, 6 of them juveniles.

FOX AND WILLIAMS WRESTLE AGAIN THURSDAY

BILLY FOX

Two weeks ago these two met for the Tri-State Gold Belt and the match ended in one of the most exciting draws ever seen at the Armory. Next Thursday night the belt will be at stake and an extra 30 minutes (90 minutes) will be added to their match.

The 2 out of 3 fall semi-final should be (Something) for two of the roughest men in the game tangle, Paul Orth and Dutch Schultz.

To make this an all star card, Promotor Les Fishbaugh has signed Jim Lewis and Gino Angelo to open the card at 8:30. Prices 1.00, 1.50. Kids 50c. Be sure of a good reservation by calling Markert & Lewis (2-1732).

FIRST BIRTHDAY NEAR. Desiderio Alberto Arnaz IV, whose birth a year ago made him one of the most publicized babies in recent history, gave his famous mother, Lucille Ball, a pat on the cheek as he prepared to celebrate his first birthday today. Desiderio arrived simultaneously with the portrayal of a baby's birth on Miss Ball's television show, in which she co-stars with her husband, Desi Arnaz. Three Are Treated At Galion Hospital After Fire, Fumes

GALION — Escaping gas from a furnace and smoking in bed were causes of three persons being taken to City Hospital here for treatment in the past few days.

First and second degree burns on the neck, shoulders and back of 81-year-old Dennis Ellsworth of Blooming Grove, were suffered when the bed on which he had been resting caught fire, early Sunday morning. He was living in a double house, owned by Miss Ollie Gattner, who discovered the fire when she got up at 2:30 a.m., to fire her stove. When she saw smoke coming from Ellsworth's room, she investigated and summoned W. B. Moffat who found him lying beside the bed. A garden hose was used to extinguish the smoldering bedding. It is believed that he had been smoking and that ashes caused the bedding to ignite. He was rushed to City Hospital, in an ambulance. His condition is reported "fair" by his physician.

Wallace C. Thayer of Galion was dismissed from City Hospital Monday, after being treated at the hospital for effects from gas fumes. He and his daughter-in-law, Mrs. William Thayer of Cleveland, were admitted to the hospital at 4:20 a.m., Saturday, when Mrs. Thayer summoned police for help by telephone. She and her husband had come to Galion to visit his father. They became ill Saturday morning at the home. Gas Company employes examined the connections of the furnace and found the clean-out above the flue connection to be clogged, causing gas fumes from the furnace to accumulate in the house. Mrs. Thayer was dismissed from the hospital soon after she was treated

Baby With Two Heads Home From Hospital

Special Care Needed No Longer, Doctor Tells Indiana Family

PETERSBURG, Ind. (AP) — Mr. Mrs. Cecil Hartley and their three daughters settled down to family life today with their two-headed baby boy, home from a hospital after five weeks.

The baby was asleep after the 122-mile ride from Riley Hospital in Indianapolis last night and his excited sisters jumped out of bed to play with him.

"Isn't he cute?" cried Connie Sue, 4, Shirley Ann, 2, looked in silent wonder.

"Why does he have two heads?" asked Mary Lou, 5, the only one who had been told the baby wasn't normal.

Nobody could answer.

The baby, normal below the waist, has four arms and two legs.

Ire Denzil Hartley, 20, Hartley's son by a previous marriage, had a brisk fire going in a coal stove in the living room, the only source of heat for the four rooms in the Hartley's half of an old duplex house.

A nurse who rode in the heated ambulance with the parents and the baby stayed overnight to get Mrs. Hartley, 27, started on the baby care.

Hartley, a 44-year-old ordnance depot worker who makes $50 a week, was given written instructions on the baby's feeding formula when he took the baby quietly from the hospital yesterday afternoon.

The parents had waited a day after the originally scheduled release, saying they wanted no publicity.

The hospital, where the baby had been since the day of his birth Dec. 12, said there was no longer any need for hospital care.

Dr. J. W. Elbert, the family physician, pronounced the baby in good health after the arrival.

Dr. Elbert himself helped arrange for the Hartleys to move from their virtually inaccessible log cabin in the woods three miles northeast of Petersburg. He had insisted on such a move before the baby was brought home.

The baby had lost some weight, but is now back to his original 10 pounds 7 ounces.

Mrs. Hartley didn't appear at Riley Hospital when the infant was released. When her husband brought the baby to her, she said:

"Gracious, I'm glad this waiting is over."

The parents had chosen two names. Donald Ray and Daniel Kaye, although a single birth certificate was issued at Washington, Ind., where the baby was born by Caesarean section.

"We know that doctors say it is impossible to tell how long our babies can live," Mrs. Hartley said. "We know that most of them like ours haven't lived to full maturity. We love the babies and want to do right by them.

"I know we don't have any money, but we'll do the best we can."

First Aid Course Offered

DO YOU KNOW WHAT you should do if an axe would slip and cut your foot? If you don't, then a course in basic first aid might be of some help. The Marion County chapter of the American Red Cross is sponsoring such a course as part of the Marion Adult Education Program at Harding High School. Classes begin at 7 o'clock tonight, and anyone interested in signing up should call the Red Cross office at 2-1653. The course is designed to give instruction in detecting hazards, preventing accidents and giving emergency first aid care.

Ralph F. Williams Re-Elected Board Of Education Head

Other board members are Clifton Wenig of New Bloomington, Edwin Carey of Green Camp, and O. M. Mills of Caledonia. Williams, Knowles and Wenig are beginning their second four-years terms on the board.

Regular meetings are held the fourth Thursday of each month at the county school office in the courthouse.

Some scholars think Charlemagne was the first secular authority to date events from the birth of Christ.

Congressman Suggests New Plan on Treaty

Rep. Javits Proposes Lower House Have Voice on Ratification

WASHINGTON (AP) — Rep. Javits (R-Lib-NY) suggested today the House be given a voice in ratifying treaties as a compromise in the controversy over the Bricker proposal to limit treaty powers.

The Constitution provides treaties shall be negotiated by the President and shall become effective upon ratification by the Senate. A two-thirds majority of those present is required. Javits proposed requiring a two-thirds vote in each branch of Congress.

Javits put forward his suggestion as an alternative which he said should be considered if Congress rejects an amendment proposed by Sen. Knowland of California, the Republican Senate leader. Knowland's proposal, a substitute for the amendment being pushed by Sen. Bricker (R-Ohio), has the support of the Eisenhower administration.

Javits, in a speech prepared for House delivery, said under his proposal to require both the Senate and House to act on treaties:

"Treaties can be at one and the same time approved and made law, the responsibility and consideration of interests broadened and the President be left free of the impossibility of subjecting foreign policy to the will of 48 separate state legislatures, a procedure not even applied to constitutional amendments."

President Eisenhower told his news conference last week he would never consent to the system which prevailed in this country in the 18th century of allowing the states to nullify treaties. Opponents contend Bricker's proposal would do that in the case of some treaties.

The President said he would be willing to go along with an amendment spelling out that any treaty which contravenes the Constitution is automatically void.

Heads New Plant

PITTSBURGH (AP)—Westinghouse Elecric Corp. named W. M. Trigg manager yesterday of its new metals development plant to be built at Blairsville, Indiana (Pa) County.

Simultaneously Trigg named Leonard W. Golden of Newark, J. J. and R. D. Rowley of Wellsville, Ohio, his top assistants.

In some tasks, like driving, a certain amount of distraction raises efficiency, says the Better Vision Institute.

Good Auto Service
Pays The Motorist More Than Anybody Else

He is the fellow who has the investment in the car and only GOOD service Regular service . . . will protect that investment.

The failure of a single minor part often is sufficient to produce a chain of deficiencies in performance, in cost of operation, or in safe and comfortable motoring.

So . . . It is only just GOOD COMMON SENSE to get good auto service it's just good sense to get DANNER'S SERVICE.

DANNER'S make a specialty of service, for they have complete up-to-date equipment, conscientious workmen, and a policy of management that is fully responsible for every detail of the work done.

Taxes on Cigarets In 1953 Decreased

CHICAGO (UP) — Cigarette tax collections have leveled off for the first time since World War II, according to the Federation of Tax Administrators.

On the basis of a growing smoker population and the expectation that employment and personal income would continue to rise, the U. S. Department of agriculture estimated in 1952 that cigarette consumption would continue its postwar upswing in 1953.

But official estimates, based on data for the first eight months of 1953, now place cigarette consumption for the full year at about the 1952 level, according to the federation.

It said cigaret consumption failed to live up to advance estimates despite the fact full employment was maintained and personal income rose almost six per cent.

The federation said cigaret tax collections for the 41 states which levy the tax were .3 per cent above the 1952 level from January through September.

Federal collections, through August were 1.1 per cent under the same period for 1952.

The federation said a comparison of cigaret tax collections by the federal government and the states indicates that the decline in cigaret smoking was nationwide and not restricted to the 41 states with state taxes.

In 1952, state tobacco taxes produced $482,000,000, which was 104 per cent more than in 1946. But from January through September of 1953, tobacco tax collections stayed about at the 1952 level, totaling $360,000,000 compared with $359,100,000 for the corresponding period of 1952.

LOADED JET

JACKSONVILLE, Fla. (UP)—As their contribution to the city's United Fund campaign, Naval Air Station sailors constructed a model Cougar jet, stuffed it with 44 $1,000 bills, and flew it into the headquarters of the fund drive at the George Washington Hotel.

NOTHING TO GROUSE ABOUT

LANSING, Mich. (UP) — The state conservation department said Lewis Michelson of Houghton Lake, Mich., set a record for the recently ended grouse season when he bagged three flying grouse with one shot. The birds fell together with barely a yard separating them.

DICK TRACY By Chester Gould

IT SOUNDS EXACTLY LIKE A BABY CRYING TO ME!
HEY! IT'S STOPPED!
BUT IT'LL START UP AGAIN. IT DID WHEN I WAS OUT HERE BEFORE.
—BESIDES THE WIND DOESN'T SOUND LIKE A CRYING BABY!
NO? NATURE DOES SOME FUNNY THINGS, KID. FOR INSTANCE, WHEN THE WIND BLOWS THROUGH THE WEATHER-STRIPPING ON ONE OF OUR WINDOWS, IT SOUNDS EXACTLY LIKE AN AUTO HORN.
NUTS!

RIP KIRBY By Alex Raymond

STEADY, CRUSHER! REMEMBER YOUR NEW ROLE AS A GENTLEMAN OF CALM!
BUT I'M SO EXCITED, MR. KIRBY...TO THINK I'VE REALLY FOUND JENNY ROBBINS!
SHE SAID I CAN COME AND VISIT HER ANY TIME...GAVE ME THIS ADDRESS...
A NIGHT CLUB... AND A LITTLE VISIT TO THAT TOWN FOR YOU...LET'S HOPE HAPPINESS IS WAITING...
SHARP, I CAN'T BELIEVE CLARENCE TWICKAM IS WEALTHY AND LOOKING FOR ME...OF ALL PEOPLE!
EVERYBODY'S WIFE CHANGES JENNY, WHY SHOULDN'T YOU GET A BREAK?

SUPERMAN By Wayne Boring

SUPERMAN HASN'T SHOWN HIMSELF IN METROPOLIS FOR DAYS. BUT HE'S CERTAIN TO APPEAR SOMETIME. UNTIL HE DOES, I'LL JUST HAVE TO BE PATIENT AND KEEP MY EYES OPEN.
WITH THE BOYS POSTED ALL OVER TOWN, WATCHIN' FOR SUPERMAN, HE'S BOUND TO BE SPOTTED SOONER OR LATER.
I SURE WISH IT WAS OVER ALREADY. I'M GETTIN' RAW NERVES FROM SITTIN' AND WATCHIN' ALL DAY.
ENOUGH OF "SUPERMAN'S DISAPPEARANCE!" I'VE JUST GOT TO GO OUT AND LOOK FOR THAT ELEMENT! AND IF ANY TROUBLE SHOULD OCCUR, THEN I'LL SIMPLY HAVE TO DEPEND ON MY WITS TO CONCEAL MY LOST POWERS!
